Fordney Explains That Fo

Says Bill Will Be Pass

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS
DEATED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—The soldier bonus bill will be reported to a Republican caucus within the next ten days and a Republican House will pass it. Chairman Fordney of the ways and means committee declared in the House today during discussion over the manner of its framing.

The House was thrown into a uproar during discussion of the measure after Representative Gagner of Texas, ranking Democrat, had been nominated to protect against the action of the Republican members in calling in a representative of the American Legion to advise with them at a secret session from which Democrats would be excluded.

Chairman Fordney, of Wyoming, Republican leader, answered Gagner and then Chairman Fordney joined the debate.

DIDN'T SEEK MEN
OPPOSED TO BONUS.

"The Republican members have no ways and means committee have no thought of opposing the bill," he said. "I am absolutely opposed to the bonus for discussion of that bill," the chairman declared.

"We had before us today an officer of the Legion, so we could ask him for evidence," he said.

The bonus bill will be presented to a caucus of the House Republican in ten days, and a Republican House will either agree with what we have framed or will direct us how to fix it.

In making his attack on the committee, Garner, without mentioning names, had reference to the appointment of John A. Johnson, George W. Johnson and Richard Jones, representing Veterans of Foreign Wars, who were before the committee today.

LEGISLATION QUESTIONED ON CASH PAYMENTS.

Taylor and Jones were said to have been questioned as to how the farmer service men would receive their cash payments were authorized.

Both were said to have taken the position that since their organizations in conventions had endorsed free-option bill which includes cash payments, it is not fair to take the membership of either body for an individual, as their spokesman, to take a different position.

Declaring there was no objection to Republicans bringing secretly to the chamber, they protested against the action of Republican members having an executive session at which witnesses were called to determine legislation.

to any form of "direct consumption tax." T. C. Atkeson, Washington representative of the organization, declared today in letters sent to the Senate Finance Committee and the Finance Committee of the House, "the means committee."

The National Grange, Atkeson said, has suggested an excess profit tax to pay the cost of the bomb and "should that be ineexpedient, tax decided on should be so levied that it will not be decided on until the necessities of great number of people of limited income."

again last night, denied the presence of the third man. Peavey probably will be questioned again on this point.

It became known today that Chas. Jones, former chief of police, who has been active in assisting District Attorney Woolwine in the investigation, has been retained by motion picture interests to aid in the solution of the mystery.

Public Administrator Bryson declared that he believed he could solve the mystery of the reported missing oil stocks of Taylor. He said he had in his possession 8000 shares of Atlas Oil Company stock and a check of the affairs of the dead man and that he was inclined to believe that this was the stock Taylor had referred to when he consulted Mrs. J. M. Berger, income tax expert.

ILLINOIS WOMAN BACKS DOWN ON "TAYLOR CLEW."

ROCKFORD, Ill., Feb. 17.—(By the Associated Press).—Mrs. Marguerite Snyder, a private investigator who resides here, and who has been reported as having a clew in the slaying of William Desmond Taylor, said today she knew nothing directly bearing on the Taylor killing, but telegraphed State's Attorney Crowe that Edward Sands, Taylor's missing secretary, was in Chicago last September. She said Sands represented himself as being able to place girls in the movies.

CHICAGO, Feb. 17.—Mrs. Marguerite Snyder sought employment from Chicago newspapers as an investigator in running down the clews she said she had in connection with Taylor murder. Thomas L. Woolwine, Los Angeles district attorney, telegraphed Robert E. Crowe, Chicago State's attorney, to interview her. Crowe said today that he had no intention of questioning Mrs. Snyder unless she returned to Chicago.

GIRL NEGLECTS CLOTHES FOR HOPE CHEST

"What's the idea, Nancy? Why all the yellow linen luncheon sets? Didn't know you were domestically inclined. Have you gone and got engaged, too? Who is it?"

"I'm not engaged," said Nancy, blushing. "I saw a bargain in this lovely linen and couldn't help buying it for my hope chest. And I was going to buy a hat with that money, too. I do need some clothes but I see so many pretty things that I want to embroider I can't help buying them."

"Say, do you mind telling me what you want a full hope chest for, if you go around looking shabby yourself. I never did see a man who was blind to pretty clothes. You had better can that hope chest idea for a while and get yourself that pretty hat and coat you want."

"Oh, I can't now. I have spent so much money on other things I don't see how I can get clothes now."

"I'll tell you how. Go to Cherry's at 513 13th street and make a small payment if you can, otherwise it will not be necessary for 30 days, and then pay the rest every month. But do get some clothes. What's a hope chest without a man?"

Cherry's men's store is at 528 13th street.—Advertisement.

VIRGINIA'S FATHER.

Virginia Fairfax, rebellious daughter of one of the first families of Virginia, tells her story, Naomi Sanderson, of her intense feelings against the rigid sixteenth century conventions of their little town and the tyranny of her grandfather, who adopted her when her parents died. Virginia confides to Naomi that she intends to run away from home to escape the tyrannical rule of her grandfather. Aunt Virginia tells her niece how the grandfather's whims and ideas ruled her life. She urged Virginia to go away before her life, too, was blasted. Virginia's aunt tells the story of her parents. Her mother, a beautiful Virginia girl, went to Philadelphia to a seminary. There she met a noted actor and married him. Her father disowned her. A year later, at Virginia's birth, she died.

"There is nothing for you to do, Virginia," your grandfather replied decisively. "Elizabeth Fairfax died over a year ago. You do not know Elizabeth Winston."

"He was obdurate. He would not hear that I should go to the funeral, but when your father was taken ill and was unable to care for you, Virginia, your grandfather had me write to your father and say that he would take care of you provided your father surrender all claim to you and never communicate with you in any way."

"And my father let me go?" I asked a little bitterly.

"Do not blame your father, child. He was told he had only a few months to live. He had no relatives and wanted to be sure that you would have the best of everything. He knew that your grandfather would give you material care and so he complied with your grandfather's demand that you be called Virginia Fairfax and that you should grow up in ignorance of him or his name. He wrote me a beautiful letter asking me to tell you of your mother when you reached maturity. He referred to your mother as 'the sweetest woman in all the world' and, referring to the doctor's belief that his days were numbered, he said that he was glad to go to her soon."

"And did he die?"

"I do not know, dear. I have never heard from him since he was sent on a long sea voyage for his health."

"He must be dead, Aunt Virginia, for if he were not he certainly would have asked about me in all these years."

"No, my dear, I do not think he would, for he was a man of his word and after I told him your grandfather saying that he never would communicate with any of us, he only wrote one other letter."

"Was my mother fond of the stage?"

"Very. She played with your father for a few months after they were married and then your expected arrival put an end to her stage aspirations."

"And what did my father say in the last letter you mentioned?"

"He sent me a packet which, on the inside, was addressed to me. It opened only by the girl known as Virginia Fairfax when she is old enough to understand."

"Where is that packet?" I asked, starting up.

"Your grandfather saw me receive it and took it from me. I have never seen it since."

"But it is mine. He has no right to keep it from me. I am going to ask him for it."

"Oh, my dear, I would not if I were you," said Aunt Virginia in alarm.

"But it is mine," I protested. "Surely he will not deny me what is mine."

I marched straight up to my grandfather's study and found him looking very grim. He fairly glared at me over the top of his glasses, for no one had ever before had the temerity to enter his study without knocking.

"You have a letter, grandfather, addressed to me which you have been keeping some years. May I have it?"

"How do you know I have one?"

"Aunt Virginia told me."

I think that had Aunt Virginia been there he would have struck her. I never saw such impudent rage on any face before.

"I have destroyed it," he said in an ugly tone, but his looks denied his words.

"You have not. You would not dare do that."

"Are you telling me what I would or would not dare?"

"I am telling you that whatever you to steal even a letter from me?"

"How old are you?"

"I am your legal guardian, Virginia, and when you are eighteen I will give you the letter. Meantime, you must never mention it to me again."

"I won't be here to mention it, you hard, cruel man. I burst out, overcome with emotion."

"What do you mean?"

"I mean that I will not live in the house with you. You have ruined Aunt Virginia's life, but I am not going to allow you to ruin mine."

"What can a little slip of a girl like you do out in the world?"

"I can at least die and I would much rather die than live here with you. You were very cruel to my mother, who loved you, and you hated my father, who probably was a truer Christian gentleman than you."

"Virginia Fairfax, do you know your father was a play-actor?" demanded my grandfather in horrified tones.

"It is many years since play-actors were banned from the church in life and from hallowed ground in which to lay their mortal remains when dead. Even your own church, grandfather, will now admit them."

"You are like your mother," he said irreverently.

"I am glad of that and I want to be free to live my life; to see if my ambitions are greater than my capabilities."

"Go to your room! Stay there till I call you."

"I will go to my room, grandfather, because there I will not be hurt with your rage, but no one else shall tell me how long I shall stay there."

My grandfather arose and I shrank a little, for I really thought he was going to strike me.

"We'll see about that, young lady. I will look you in."

With no gentle touch, he fairly dragged me along the corridor to my room and I heard the key click in the door.

Tomorrow—Virginia's Flight.

DOG'S LICENSE IS OFFERED TO LOVESICK YOUTH

SAN LEANDRO, Feb. 17.—
Marshall J. F. Peralta's big chance to play the temporary role of Dan Cupid yesterday was shattered to bits merely by the force of official circumstances. A young man, apparently in his early twenties, blushing and hesitant, approached Peralta and whispered: "Gimme a license."
"A license?" asked Peralta.
"What kind, dog, peddler or poolroom?"
"Oh, no," replied the prospective bridegroom. "I want a regular marriage license. I saw your sign outside that said 'licenses' and I figured you issued marriage licenses here."
"You got the wrong place, young fellow," replied Peralta. "You want the county clerk's office."
and followed by the amused sticklers of several unromantic and unappreciative onlookers, the youthful Romeo headed in the general direction of the county clerk's office.

NEW WASHINGTON CONFERENCE WILL ALLOCATE CABLES

International Meeting to Divide Former German Property Soon to Be Called.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—(By Associated Press.)—An international conference to divide the property of former German cables in the Atlantic will be called in Washington next week, acting Secretary Fletcher announced today. Representatives of France, England, Italy, Japan and the United States will be asked to meet and determine the disposition of the three cable lines taken over under the provisions of the Versailles treaty.

The cables are now being operated by England and France under an agreement with the other interested powers which provide that the revenues shall be impounded and later divided among the powers in accordance with decisions reached by a conference on the subject.

PRESENT ARRANGEMENT.

Under the present arrangement Great Britain is operating the former German cable from Halifax to Penzance, while France is in control of two running from Brest to New York and from Brest to Pernambuco, Brazil. All the cables operate by way of the Azores.

Italy has been seeking use of one of these cables, and has suggested that the revenues from their operation be applied to the construction of a new line from the Azores to a point in Italy, thus giving the Rome government direct cable communication with the Americas.

The chief interest of the United States, it was said at the state department, has been to obtain direct cable communication with Germany over the line from New York to Brest, connecting there with a line terminating in German territory.

JAPAN SATISFIED.

The interests of Japan in the former German cables are understood to have been largely satisfied by the award to her of one of the lines radiating from the islands of Guam in the Pacific, it was said, but Ambassador Shidehara will be invited to the forthcoming conference because of Japan's direct interest in the Atlantic cables under the Versailles treaty.

Although the Dutch government has not assented formally to the division of German cables in the Pacific, whereby a line running from Guam to its colonies in the Orient was given to the Hague government, it was stated today that the settlement effected under the Guam agreement would be in every way acceptable to the Netherlands.

JAZZ GOES BACK TO JUNGLE: PASTOR

NEW YORK, Feb. 17.—"Perhaps jazz is our national anthem, and if that is true then the devil's crying argument, 'Go to Hell,' is our national slogan," declared the Rev. Percy Stimney Grant, rector of the Episcopal Church of the Ascension, in a sermon on the text: "Is Jazz Our National Anthem?"

"Jazz goes back to the African jungle," the pastor said. "The effect is to make you clatter, want to go on all fours and whisk your tail around a tree. It is a savage crash and bang. It rings the bell for full steem asteru."

"There is no pathos or idealism about jazz music," Dr. Grant continued. "It is for sensation. In the dance, instead of symbolism, it becomes sensuality."

"Dancing is itself a substitute for sexual contact. But when it becomes an instrument for a gratification, then the whole psychological process is turned about, and instead you have an injury. Then it becomes the gesture of the jungle."

"Plato said that whenever modes of music change, morals change. Music changed greatly a few years ago.
We have had storms of all kinds—international and inter-racial. Jazz cannot help closing our ideals, even our humanness."

The heroine in "jazz" was described by the pastor as "the poor little rich wife trying to reform a sensual husband with good books, good music and other entertainment."

"The world of today is too much concerned with the dancing floor and not with the men under the floor who hold it up," said Dr. Grant; "the church is the only remedy for this condition."

"The words of Christ, 'Follow Me,' are the only cure for this madness."

Landlording Costly, So Dukes May Quit

LONDON, Feb. 17.—Several dukes and a large number of lords of other families are making arrangements to turn themselves, as landlords, into limited companies.

It is their last effort to retain their beautiful estates, which have been the pride of their families for generations.

Many of these companies will be in operation before April.

Seemingly these landed proprietors have at last discovered what other business men have long known, that the tax-gatherer is much more lenient to the company than to the individual, and it is supposed, when the respective companies have been formed, that the landlord will himself take the great bulk of the shares, while his children and other family dependents will have shares in such proportion that the interest should yield them sums equal to their present allowances, as supplied to them now by the head of the family.

ROAD BUILT TO GLACIER

BOULDER, Colo., Feb. 17.—What is believed to be the largest body of perpetual ice in the United States is Vrain Canyon, west of this city. The glacier is being made easy of access by improved roads to make it reachable in a day's journey on foot and horsesback through the picturesque mountain passes.

BOURBONS WOULD ANNOY HARDING IN REVENGE PLAN

Demand on Treaty Is Part of Scheme to Get Even for Killing League.

By LAWRENCE MARTIN,
United Press Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—Democratic Senators have set in motion a plan to get revenge for the killing of the League of Nations covenant.

Their plan consists of these steps:
1—Adoption of the Hitchcock resolution, requesting more information from President Harding on the four-power Pacific treaty. This step has already been taken.

2—Forcing of an admission of administration leaders that the four-power treaty involves the United States in exactly the same sort of international obligation as Article X of the league covenant.

By the first step the Democrats have confronted Harding with the same situation as the Republicans forced on Wilson in the Versailles treaty fight.

CANNOT BE GIVEN.

Harding, like Wilson, must answer a virtual demand for information which is practically impossible for him to give. Wilson said he could not give the records of the Versailles conference because he did not have them and had no right to make them public if he had. Harding has no records of the conversations out of which the four-power pact grew and if he had he could not make them public without the consent of Great Britain, France and Japan.

Harding will answer the Hitchcock resolution as soon as he can confer with Secretary Hughes. It was learned today, following a visit of Senator Lodge at the White House,
Hughes will not be back from Bern until the two weeks.

SECOND REVENGE STEP

The second step in the revenge program, Democrats expected to complete by mid-March, will be the adoption of a resolution, with the help of some Republicans, they expect to pass, that as a condition of the treaty would impose a moral obligation on the United States to help maintain by force, if necessary, the rights of Britain and Japan in the Pacific.

They are confident, at least, of creating so much noise and moving fast about this that the Senate will adopt a resolution against the use of force without congressional sanction—the very thing that the Republicans insisted upon as to Article X.

PASTOR'S ADDRESS TO SCHOOL GIRLS DRAWS BOARD BAN

Appearance Indicates Impending Calamity, 'Y' Orator Tells Maids.

Today took place with the girls of the Oakland high school and issued the following statement:

Oakland high school girls are not flappers. They are not misbehaving links, and above all they do not "sway" in the hallways or tangle themselves in barbaric music or dancing. Neither do they paint their lips, pluck their eyebrows, or roll their stockings.

To say the least, Mr. Rimmer is terribly out of date if nothing else. Rolling the socks and plucking the eyebrows was a passing fad of nearly a year ago. Perhaps when it first started it was taken up by Oakland high school girls, but they were soon shown the wrong of it and avoided it. They would not do it now, anyway, for it is not the style.

While I believe that Mr. Rimmer's remarks in the main were very commendable, Vice-Principal Sutton said today, "I am of the opinion that he may have been a bit too forceful in some of his remarks. In some of the statements accredited to him are true I might say that he was a 'bit rough'."

Following Rimmer's address, Mr. Fraser declared that the speaker's remarks were "grossly over-emphasized and that the very appearance of the young ladies of the school who sat on the stage, was a decided contrast to his remarks and that the look on their faces was the best proof of his statements."

CIRCUMSTANCES CRUEL TO MABEL SENNETT CLAIMS

Comedy Producer Laments Taylor: Leaves for New York On Business.

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 17.—Mack Sennett, comedy producer, who with Mabel Normand, his feature star, was questioned in connection with the William D. Taylor murder case, left today for New York. Sennett said, "Before leaving Los Angeles, he issued his first statement of his knowledge of the Taylor case. It follows: My association with Mr. Taylor was of the slightest. I knew him just as I know hundreds of other people in motion picture work, but even the little contact I had bred a sincere admiration for the man. Taylor was a man of education and culture, and I not only respected him but liked him. So far as I can determine, this was the feeling of everyone else who knew Taylor. To me, the killing is a blank mystery, because I cannot imagine such a man with enemies vicious enough to resort to murder. Having such a feeling for Mr. Taylor, personally, I was very glad that he was also a friend of Miss Mabel Normand. Miss Normand has been my friend for years. She is a charming

Divorce Deposition Results in Killing SOMERSET, Ky., Feb. 17.—John F. Todd, farmer, who yesterday shot and killed A. H. Wilson, wealthy land owner, in an attorney's office here after Wilson had denounced as a "black lie" Todd's charges that he had been intimate with Mrs. Todd, today remained silent concerning the case. The shooting occurred during the taking of depositions in divorce proceedings. Wilson had been named co-respondent in a counter claim for divorce. "Were you ever intimate with Mrs. Todd?" William Catron, attorney for Mrs. Todd, asked Wilson. "Absolutely no. It's a lie—as black as one as ever was told." Todd whipped a pistol from his pocket and fired four shots at Wilson, seated only a few feet away. Three shots took effect. Todd surrendered.

CAPITAL PROBES SUTTER AID CASE

Sutter Jr., eldest son of General John A. Sutter, noted California pioneer. The committee will take the matter up with the grand jury. The appeal was made here yesterday by Miss Alice M. Dougherty, grand secretary of the Native Daughters.

GYPSY ARMY INVADES TOWN IN GERMANY

BERLIN, Feb. 17.—North and East Hanover, from Oldenburg to Brunswick, have been invaded by an army of gypsies, traveling in bands comprising some times 100 wagons and camping in fields and woods. They invade the market places in towns and on market days crowd out German vendors.

The authorities in the several communities, are taxed beyond their resources to control these hordes and prevent them from which they are adepts. Members of the Reichstag have asked the government what steps were to be taken to drive out or control the unwelcome guests.

Where they have come from the authorities do not know, but many of them are rich, travel in state in luxurious wagons, equipped with rich oriental rugs and fine furnishings, and ice boxes in which there are always supplies of good wines, liquors and costly champagnes. Men of these gypsy bands have adopted modern European apparel, but the women cling to the quaint and picturesque original costumes. The young girls are beautiful. Communities through which the invaders pass usually are cleaned out through trade, purchase or theft, although it is next to impossible to fix crimes upon the gypsies.

War continues between the provinces in the Yangtze Valley, China, and traffic on the river is dangerous.

"Bill" of New Jersey Named Correspondent

A mysterious "Bill," who lives in Patterson, N. J., has wrecked the home life of James J. Rooney, Oakland business man, and is named as the champion long-distance correspondent in a divorce suit against Mrs. Maude Rooney filed with County Clerk George Gross today.

According to Rooney his wife has never let him forget the existence of Bill, whom she had known in the east, but who has never been to California and whom Rooney has never seen. She told him she loved Bill better than her husband, Rooney avers, and Bill finally got on his nerves, so he decided to secure a divorce and thus be relieved of constantly hearing Bill's praises sung.

Rooney asks the custody of their two minor children.

Man Held As Liquor Smuggler Suspect

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 17.—Charles Maddox, whom federal officials believe to be leader of a ring of Pacific coast liquor smugglers, will be given a preliminary hearing before Commissioner Hayden here tomorrow.

Maddox, arrested at first as a suspect, was held in custody when officers discovered in his room a large number of automobile license plates, which they think might have been removed from cars stolen by the ring and used in smuggling operations across the Canadian and Mexican borders.

Another suspect giving the name of Ralph Krieger, held in Los Angeles, is alleged to have named Maddox in a statement. Police are thought to be ringleaders in the gang's activities.

WOMAN FAINTS IN DIVORCE HEARING

While testifying to alleged acts of cruelty by her husband, Charles E. Booth, former U. S. army captain, Mrs. Emmaline Booth fainted and fell headlong to the floor in the court of Superior Judge James G. Quinn today. She fell so suddenly court attaches were unable to catch her and was slightly injured.

Mrs. Booth appeared before the court on a plea for alimony pending the trial of her suit for divorce against Booth, whom she charges with cruelty. She asked $100 a month alimony and was awarded $40 a month by the court. Booth has filed a counter charge of cruelty against his wife, whom he married in 1917 and from whom he separated last month.

Court Says Companies Blameless in Mishap

Fred Peters, Berkeley expressman who was burned on September 15, 1920, by the explosion of a carboy of sulphuric acid, suffered his injuries as a result of his own carelessness and as one of the natural hazards of his business, according to the opinion of Superior Judge A. T. St. Sure, who granted the motion of non-suit entered by the Southern Pacific and the Standard Soap Co. of Berkeley, following arguments in which attorneys for the defendant corporations presented legal opinions to uphold their contentions.

BERKELEY, Feb. 17.—Holding in her hand a dainty shoe which had been deprived of its French heel, Mrs. Mabel Mitchell, 2604 and dramatic appeal to the Berkeley council today.

"Look at this shoe," she said. "It has been ruined by the poor paying of Berkeley. If I had not been careful and lucky and if it had not been for the heel that gave way, I would have broken my ankle."

She reached in her handbag, found the missing heel and fitted it to the shoe. Council members, solemnly, looked over their spectacles.

"If you men would not pay so much attention to taking care of garbage and would look after the streets, things like this could not happen," said Mrs. Mitchell, who then departed with her shoe.

GUN DISCOVERY IN PALESTINE IS BLAMED FOR ROW

Several Thousand Automatic Pistols Found in Supposed Beehives.

HAIFA, Palestine, Feb. 17.—Accidental discovery of a consignment of several thousand automatic pistols and 25,000 rounds of ammunition, which were being smuggled into Palestine in boxes supposed to contain beehives, has aroused much comment and tended to revive the bitter feelings between the Arabs and Jews.

Edison Medal Won by Pittsfield Inventor

NEW YORK, Feb. 17.—The Edison medal for meritorious contribution to electrical science was awarded to Cummings C. Chesney of Pittsfield, Mass., last night at the tenth annual convention of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers.

Mr. Chesney invented an alternator which transmits 220,000 volts in commercial service and recently in an experimental test succeeded in transmitting 1,000,000 volts.

Health Center Aided by Work Of Women

By EDNA B. KINARD.

Reopening of the children's health center in Lockwood school and adequate equipment for the other centers has been assured through the generosity of the Alameda county hygiene committee, American Association of University Women, of which Mrs. F. C. Turner is chairman. Finances for carrying on the work of this committee are accumulated almost entirely through the little red stockings which are distributed following Thanksgiving among the children of the city and collected near the Christmas tide. A stream of pennies saved by the little folk for the less fortunate than themselves is the basis for the health center. Approximately $400 was turned into the committee during the holidays in this way. When Dr. Alvin Powell, director of the Alameda County Public Health Center, recently made an appeal to the body of university women, presenting some of the immediate needs, the entire sum was appropriated to meet the conditions. Additional medical and nursing facilities, the centers in operation is being provided and the reopening of the Lockwood center, closed some time ago for lack of funds, is assured.

To foster the educational work in the centers, the Alameda county committee is assisting in financing printing of folders on special hygiene subjects. These practical and easily understood publications are being distributed to mothers who attend the centers.

Although some volunteer subscribers are helping in putting the program across, the work is yet hampered through lack of funds. Mrs. Lloyd Stevenson, Magnolia avenue, Piedmont, as treasurer of the group of alumnae women giving their attention to child welfare, will receive additional contributions.

Daughters of the American Revolution hereabouts are taking a personal pride in the fact that the largest meetings during the Disarmament Conference were held in the building owned by the National Society, Continental Hall. Mrs. Daniel Lothrop, author of the "Five Little Peppers" series and founder of the Society of Children of the American Revolution, stressed this historic incident when she addressed the February meeting of the John Rutledge chapter, meeting at the home of Mr. L. E. Richmond, 3111 Smith.

Lothrop has written an ode to the flag, which was rendered following her address by Mrs. J. Dennis Arnold.

Many women prominently identified with the patriotic organization were included among the guests of the day.

Mrs. W. Theodore Watson will open her Claremont home for the program of Thursday, March 9.

Music in the public schools is claiming close attention from the clubwomen of the city. A series of programs recently have been presented before Oakland Center, California Civic League of Women Voters, by various musical groups in the schools. A girls' glee club from Oakland High school and a boys' double quartet from University High school recently demonstrated something of the finished work which was being achieved.

Rockridge Women's Club, through the music section, is giving an entire day over to the subject on Monday, discussing both the orchestral and vocal branches. The clubwomen will assemble at the Keith avenue home of Mrs. H. P. Dalton to listen to outlines of the musical programs and how they are being carried out by the Orchestra Leader Carter of the University High school and Miss Jean Coulton, director of the vocal department in Claremont school. Students from the neighborhood school will render a group of four part songs to illustrate the talks.

Mrs. B. E. Sweet will be chairman of the program.

Although but a month old, Emeryville Parent-Teacher Association claims 101 active members who are eager to put a group on the organization's map. Tonight the club makes its public debut as hostess, inviting the public to share its hospitality in the Emeryville auditorium. A program of song and dance has been arranged.

Officers of the newly organized association are: President, Mrs. A. H. Hanush; vice-president, Mrs. W. Coddington; recording secretary, Mrs. Chappell; financial secretary, Mrs. V. A. Benham; treasurer, Mrs. F. Hawley; delegates to the 2nd federation, Mrs. Roberts, Mrs. O. L. Zeus.

200 SHOT ARE REMOVED FROM MAN'S STOMACH

ASTORIA, Ore., Feb. 17.—John H. Bell, noted locally as a hunter of wild fowl and who for a period of years past has eaten his kills regularly, was taken seriously ill a week ago with a mysterious malady. Examination by X-ray finally disclosed that his intestines were full of shot and that lead poisoning had resulted. Physicians removed more than 200 of the shot, but a new X-ray examination yesterday showed more than 100 shot still in the digestive canal. Preparations were under way for a second operation for removal of the shot which the doctors said Bell undoubtedly had swallowed in eating wild fowl whose carcasses had been sprinkled with them.

ACTIVITIES WOMEN

Betrothal Is Announced to Harvard Man

Through informal notes to her intimate friends, the betrothal of Miss Constance Van Brunt Lynch of Alameda and Thomas Page Smith of Boston was made known yesterday. Mrs. Lynch is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Van Brunt of Alameda avenue, the family being one of the oldest in the Eastbay cities. Miss Hildegarde Van Brunt, who with her mother served overseas throughout the war, and who is now at the base hospital in Palo Alto doing Red Cross work, is a sister of the bride-to-be. Mrs. Lynch was graduated from Mrs. Prince's school in Boston, and while there met her fiancé, Smith, a graduate of Harvard university, is a son of the late Thomas Page Smith and Mrs. Smith of Boston.

The wedding is to take place in the early summer, but whether it will be in the east or at the family home in Alameda is as yet indefinite.

Mrs. Lynch is the widow of the late Captain Laurence S. Lynch, son of the late James P. Lynch, former governor of the Federal Reserve bank. Captain Lynch was killed in France.

More than five hundred invitations have been extended for the Delta Delta Delta sorority tea Friday afternoon, an annual affair that is most important in the social history of the organization. The chapter house in Berkeley will be the setting for the affair. Receiving will be the freshmen of the sorority. In the evening the annual house dance is to be given.

The afternoon will be the occasion for the reunion of many of the active and alumnae members of the sorority who will motor to the college town from all parts of the bay country.

BETROTHAL TOLD AT BRIDGE TEA.
The bridge tea given at the Robert B. Muir home in San Francisco yesterday by the Misses Flora and Elizabeth Moore was the occasion of the announcement of the betrothal of Miss Flora Muir and Helmer Dickey of Chicago. The Misses Muir have returned after two years spent abroad.

Fifty guests were assembled yesterday, a number being from the east side of the bay. The betrothal cards were concealed in French rose-gays. Miss Muir's fiancé is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Minerva Dickey Schrader of Chicago.

During the war he served as ensign in command of a submarine.

Mr. Brown will be hostess.

Is Weak?

Your eyes are weak and work-strained, your vision blurred, if you find it difficult to read and must wear glasses, drop any drug and get a bottle of Bon-Opto tablets. Drop one in a fourth of a glass of water and bathe the eyes as directed. Stronger eyes, clearer vision, and sweet relief will make you tell your friends about Bon-Opto.

Right. Doctors say Bon-Opto strengthens eyesight in ten days and in a week's time in many instances and cures eye trouble. It is sold in every drug store.

MRS. ERNEST L. BLANCK and MRS. CARL CURDTS, who are working for the success of the West Oakland Home theater benefit Tuesday night at the Fulton Theater.

at a bridge tea February 25 at the home of her mother, Mrs. Arthur Merrill Brown. The hostess is a member of the Delta Gamma sorority and a student at the University of California.

WEST OAKLAND HOME BENEFIT.
West Oakland Home members are interested in their theater benefit Tuesday evening, February 21, at the Fulton theater. Several hundred tickets have been disposed of by an active committee under the direction of their chairman, Mrs. S. H. Fetherston. Assisting are a score or more of the managers of the home. The proceeds are to be used for the benefit of the little children under the care of the organization.

One hundred invitations have been sent out by Mrs. Dessie E. Farrar of Leroy avenue for an elaborate tea, February 24, guests from both sides of the bay being included in the guest list. Assisting the hostess to receive will be Mrs. Evan J. Foulds, Mrs. W. E. Herms, Mrs. Charles Chapel Hudson and Mrs. W. S. Porter.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Clark of the Hotel Oakland gave a smart dinner last evening in compliment to Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Howard of Pasadena, who have been at the Fairmont and have come to the hotel Oakland for a day or two before their departure for the south. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Clarke Keeney will also be

PASTOR REFUTES SLUR ON ISLAND

Bardey, that little island off the Welsh coast near Llandudno, should not be described as the "island of ignorance," Rev. O. R. Williams, pastor of the Welsh Presbyterian church of this city, has taken exception to a recent despatch from England.

The despatch set forth that it has been decided to establish a church, a minister and a school teacher on the island as "it is only recently that men of the age of 24 have begun to go to school."

In answer Rev. Williams contends that the minutes of the general assembly of the Presbyterian church of Wales of 1916 show that there has been a church established there since 1827. He says:

"I have on my desk a copy of the minutes of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian church of Wales for the year 1916. There, I find these facts: Bardey island, off the mainland of Carnarvonshire, has a Presbyterian church since 1827, also a resident minister. As to there being a school, my impression is that the British Government has also a school there, but I am not quite certain of that."

The official census of Japan has been completed and places the total population at 65,963,853.

YOUTH 'CREATES' MYSTERY MAN FOR EXCITEMENT

FLINT, Mich., Feb. 15.—The mystery of the "big masked men," who, according to sixteen-year-old Hilton Coons, twice "attacked" him has been solved, and as a result Hilton accompanied his dad to the woodshed, and neighbors of the Coons now permit their children out alone at night, and farmers no longer carry shotguns for their protection.

Hilton's father is a wealthy farmer, residing near here. Returning from Flint recently the boy's parents found him bound with ropes and tied to a post in the basement of his father's barn.

A "big masked man" attacked him and bound him, he told his father. Several days later he rushed into the house from a barnyard, with a bullet hole through his cap, and informed his startled parents that the "mystery man" had shot at him from behind a cornstack in a field near by.

The story created a sensation in the countryside, and a posse of farmers scoured the neighborhood looking for the man. When the search proved fruitless authorities questioned the boy at great length, and finally he confessed that his story was a hoax and that the "mystery man" was a character of his imagination, invented to liven up dull times around Flint.

FAMOUS OLD S. F. SHIP BROKEN UP

TACOMA, Wash., Feb. 17.—An old clipper ship, the Glory of the Seas, which thirty-five years ago set a record for "wind-jammers" between San Francisco and Australia, is being broken up here, following the discovery that barnacles have eaten into her hull beyond repair.

The stout old ship was built at the famous Donald McKay yards in Boston, Mass., in 1885 and, since then, has sailed on the seven seas and called at most of the important ports around the globe.

Some years ago the Glory of the Seas was purchased by a Tacoma fish company and was put in the service between Puget Sound and Alaska. Each spring she would spread her canvas and sail away to the north, carrying supplies and employees for the Alaska canneries operated by the company and, in the fall, would return with the season's catch.

The old boat was built of oak and other tough woods and some of these are still in good condition. She is being broken up for what metal she holds.

Thermodynamics Is U. C. Treatise Topic

BERKELEY, Feb. 17.—The treatise on chemical thermodynamics which has occupied the attention of Dr. G. N. Lewis, world-renowned scientist and dean of the college of chemistry of the University of California for the past ten years, has been completed and sent to the publishers, according to announcement today. Associated with Dr. Lewis in the preparation of the work, which will comprise a volume of some 700 or 800 pages, was Dr. Merle Randall, professor of chemistry at the university.

$500,000 FIRE IN ALABAMA. BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Feb. 17.—Fire which wiped out one-fourth of a city block at Twenty-first street and Fourth avenue, in the heart of the downtown business district, today caused a loss of more than $500,000.

SOLDIER 'BURIED' LAST SEPTEMBER IS FOUND ALIVE

CHICAGO, Feb. 17.—Donald Campbell, believed by his wife to have been buried with military honors last Labor Day, a few days after the casket said to contain his body arrived from France, was tried before a general court martial board at Fort Sheridan today on a grave charge. A girl friend recently told Mrs. Campbell that she had met "the most wonderful man." A little later Mrs. Campbell discovered that it was her husband. Examination disclosed that the body sent from France was not that of Campbell. In 1900 Asia had 30,000 miles of railways.

LARGE SUM ADDED TO STANFORD FROM STADIUM FUNDS

More Than $50,000 Will Be Available for General Purposes.

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Feb. 17.—More than $50,000 will be added to the university's funds to be used for general purposes as well as smaller sums for a variety of purposes as a result of the arrangement by which donors to the stadium building fund were privileged to specify that the amount of their contribution should be later taken out of receipts from athletic contests and applied to other academic uses of their choice.

It is pointed out that Stanford, from the beginning of its stadium project, has put into application the plan recently advocated by President Barrows of the University of California, to have the university's stadium contribute to the welfare of the universities in non-athletic directions.

Through the transfer of stadium funds the special university fund will receive $46,732.30. Various war memorial projects will also be benefited by payments from the stadium fund. The largest beneficiary in this group is the War Memorial building, which is projected on the campus as a monument to Stanford men and women who served in the war. This project will get $15,433.11. A memorial in honor of Dr. Shadworth Beasley of the Stanford medical school, who, as a major of field artillery, was killed in France, October 14, 1918, while rescuing wounded under fire, will receive $1030. The Palmer Taylor scholarship, established by the Sigma Nu fraternity, of which Taylor was a member, will get $2150. Taylor died in war service in January, 1918.

Various scholarships will get nearly $20,000. In the regional scholarship funds from San Francisco and the bay region will receive $8330, $6230 of that amount going to the benefit of residents of San Francisco, who may be selected by alumni to receive regional scholarships and $550 going to Oakland and the Eastbay district.

Textbooks, Lectures Prove of Same Value

BERKELEY, Feb. 17.—Whether it is easier to learn by the lecture route or the textbook method was the subject of an experiment conducted this week by Prof. Joel H. Hildebrand of the University of California with his freshman chemistry classes. The classes include close to a thousand students, and according to the results obtained one method of study was as efficient as the other.

Half of the freshman chemistry students were taken to recitation rooms and assigned a certain topic to study from the chemistry textbook written by Hildebrand and used in the course. The other half remained in the lecture room and were given a lecture on the same subject by the professor.

In the last ten minutes of the hour the students were given the same short examination on the topic being studied. When the papers of both groups were graded it was found that the average for the lecture group and of the textbook group were both within a few tenths of one per cent of 73 per cent.

Benefit Dance for Disabled Veterans

BERKELEY, Feb. 17.—A jazz orchestra of professional vocal talent and Hawaiian dancers will be some of the features of the benefit ball which will be given by the Disabled American Veterans of the World War at the Hotel Whittier here on Washington's birthday. The dancing will be from 9 p. m. to 1 a. m. The proceeds from the ball will be used in the "helping hand" work which has been handled by the organization for the past few months. The different committees have been working for days and their plans are nearing completion. It was announced today. The event is expected to rival anything given in the Berkeley War Mothers will act as chaperones.

Alsacian Mayors Are Paris Guests

PARIS, Feb. 17. (United Press).—To give them an idea of the government organized a junket for fifty mayors of towns of Alsace-Lorraine to Paris. Many of the mayors, whose towns were under German rule for a half-century, spoke very little French and that with a pronounced German accent. The first visit was to the tomb of Napoleon, and on succeeding days the mayors were entertained by the government at Versailles and shown the Senate and Chamber of Deputies.

Domestic Service As Trade Says Lady Astor

LONDON, Feb. 17.—Domestic service is a skilled job and the opposite of a degrading occupation, declared Lady Astor, M. P., presiding at a conference on unemployment among women.

"When I listen to the anti-women members in the house of commons," she added, "I rather long to go to them as a domestic. It would be such a wonderful chance of what the soldiers called 'learning' em."

HOTALING SAYS HE'D 'CONSERVE' MOTHER'S ESTATE

Explanation of Suit Is to 'Protect Her Against Designing Persons.'

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 17.—Receiving his fight to gain possession of the estate left his mother by her husband, the late Anson P. Hotaling, multi-millionaire distiller, Richard M. Hotaling, the eldest son, is the principal figure in a suit to recover $160,708. J. Sheriffs, who is said by his attorneys to hold a claim for the amount mentioned in the action against Mrs. Lavinia P. Hotaling, is the actual complainant named in the suit.

Members of Mrs. Hotaling's family say, however, that the widow has received only about $124,000 from the estate of her husband, which was valued at more than $4,000,000.

In a statement issued yesterday Hotaling declared that his sole purpose was to protect his mother's interests. The suit was brought for the purpose of "conserving his mother's estate and to protect it and her against certain designing persons."

Officer Choked By Hungry Ghost He Tried to Trap

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS. LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

WAUKEGAN, Ill., Feb. 17.—When the hungry ghost that has been heard about the home of Mrs. Catherine Mikalovich, here, foiled a shotgun squad that had stayed up all night looking for it, Lieutenant Arnold Nolan, an overseas veteran, offered his services in running down the disturber. With his army pistol he entered the basement last night and seated himself near a table where he placed the pistol.

According to Lieutenant Nolan, he heard the ghost all right. The stairs creaked. There was a moan. The door opened. A voice said: "Ah, now I have you." and a hand seized his throat.

The lieutenant reached for the pistol, but it was gone. The grip on his throat relaxed. He turned on the lights. The ghost had departed. And the mystery remained unsolved.

KEY ROUTE SPAN IS CHAMPIONED BY HARBOR BOARD

Governor and Legislature Are Urged to Support Goat Island Project.

Governor Stephens and the state legislature have been asked to appeal to Congress for favorable action on the appeal of the Key Route application for rights to build a bridge from Oakland to Goat Island, in resolutions adopted by the State Harbor Commission.

The commission for a number of years has considered such a span the only solution to the transportation problem, and, with the announcement of the Key Route plans, has repeated its stand.

Colonel F. Emerson Hoar of San Francisco, who will be host to General G. W. Goethals, to arrive here tomorrow from Spokane, is understood to have a new bridge tunnel project, which he will present to the builder of the Panama canal and there are a number of organizations in San Francisco each backing a separate proposal.

POPE'S MAKESHIFT OFFICE SWAMPED BY MAIL, CABLES

Hardly Room to Move for the Bundles of Messages From All Parts of World.

ROME, Feb. 17.—(By the Associated Press).—Pope XI has not yet settled down to the normal life of a supreme pontiff, chiefly because the private apartment occupied by the late Benedict XV is not yet ready to receive him. A crowd of workmen is still redecorating the apartment, changing the hangings and carpets and rearranging the furniture.

Meanwhile the pope sleeps in what is called the "little throne room." It was in this chamber that Pope Leo XIII died.

As it adjoins the large papal library, where Pius X and Benedict XV received visitors, the chamber was transformed into a small throne room. A throne was placed opposite the window and on the floor was a magnificent carpet presented by Alfonso XII, king of Spain, to Pope Leo, having in its center the coat of arms of the Spanish sovereign.

The throne has been replaced by the small iron bed in which Pius slept. In another part of the room is a large desk at which the pope works. All the chairs and tables, and even the floor, are piled with neatly docketed bundles of telegrams and letters from every part of the world, which the pontiff insists he must answer himself.

"If it continues like this, soon you will not be able to enter my room," the pope smilingly said to Cardinal Gasparri yesterday.

In order to save time he takes his meals in the adjoining library, being served on his predecessor's desk.

Pius has had little time for exercise, and thus far has been able to walk through vatican gardens only once.

The pope was moved to laughter by the suggestion circulated lately that artificial mountain peaks be erected in the vatican gardens so he might indulge in his favorite pastime of mountain climbing. After enjoying the joke the pontiff seriously said: "Alas my climbing days are over."

Shriners to Form Sacramento Temple

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 17.—Preliminary steps in the formation of a temple of the Mystic Shrine here were taken last night at a meeting of Shriners from all parts of the Sacramento Valley and portions of the San Joaquin valley. Three hundred of the necessary 600 signers were secured, and the matter will be taken up at the Shriners' convention to be held in San Francisco next June. The name "Caliph" was adopted for the proposed temple, and Joseph Stephens was elected potentate.

EXTRADITION DENIED.
SACRAMENTO, Feb. 17.—A second set of papers received yesterday at the offices of Governor Stephens for the extradition of J. L. Holtzendorff, former constable of Hill county, Montana, charged with robbery, were again declared defective because certain affidavits had not been attested before a justice of the peace. It was stated by officials. A warrant for Holtzendorff's extradition was refused recently on the same grounds. The defendant is now employed as a special policeman in Venice.

The King of Siam is said to be generally attended by a bodyguard composed of eighty of the prettiest young women of his realm.

Inroads of Sea Menace Old Port

LEICESTER, Eng., Feb. 18.—That section of the eastern coast of England about The Wash is being washed away by the sea. Dutch engineers have been enlisted to stop the water's continued encroachment, which is seriously threatening Kings Lynn, the country's commercial harbor.

Famous restaurants of Rome have been fined for keeping luxury taxes paid by Americans.

Marriage Not Bar To Maiden Name

HARTFORD, Conn., Feb. 17.—Elsie Hill, who recently married Professor Leavitt, was so well known in Connecticut as a suffragist leader and worker, that the announcement that she would retain her maiden name, though married, attracted state-wide attention. It set lawyers and others at work reading statutes old and new to see if there was anything in them which would prevent Elsie Hill from using in Connecticut her maiden name, though married.

The best legal opinion in default of an actual court decision, is that a woman may take any name she chooses, provided there is no intent to defraud.
There are no written words which require a woman in Connecticut to take her husband's name after marriage. Lawyers, however, say that it will have to be determined if a married woman retaining her maiden name can vote, under the maiden name, or obtain a passport from the government.

Count Strangles His Fiancee; Ends Life

VIENNA, Feb. 18.—Though her parents had warned her of insanity in his family, Mlle. Elizabeth von Keuren became betrothed to Count Karl Lehmann. Shortly afterward he became jealous and attacked his bride-to-be while at dinner. He strangled her almost to death as the aged parents looked on in terror, helpless to interfere. Servants finally rescued Mlle. von Keuren. The count dashed to a tower room and blew out his brains.

Poles Start Move To Check Typhus

WARSAW, Feb. 17.—A vigorous campaign to check the spread of typhus is expected to result from the meeting which began here today of the first Polish National Congress of Hygienists and Sanitarians. A country-wide health campaign, based on the American model, will be organized. Polish medical authorities are somewhat apprehensive over the spread of typhus, but feel confident that the epidemic will not reach the proportions of 1919 when there were 120,000 cases in the first few months, with a mortality of 10 per cent. American relief organizations are lending every assistance to the government in caring for the thousands of typhus-infected Polish refugees who are flocking across the border. Half a million of these refugees have been repatriated in the last three months and it is expected that as many more will be returned to their homes in the next two months. The Polish authorities are now working in friendly co-operation with the Soviet officials.

HORRIBLE HEADACHES!

Try a Course of Gude's Pepto-Mangan to Overcome Their Cause.

Perhaps you wonder whether a disordered stomach causes them. Maybe you think your eyes are not right and that they make your head ache, or possibly that a sluggish liver makes your head hurt. But have you ever thought that your frequent headaches may be due to weak, watery blood? This is a very common cause of headache—what the doctors call "anemic" headache, due to what they term general "blood poverty."

Take Gude's Pepto-Mangan with your meals for a few weeks to build up your blood and general strength, and your headaches will probably cease. Gude's Pepto-Mangan contains a readily digestible form of iron that puts more red blood cells in your blood, and everybody knows, it is red blood that is the sure foundation of good health. You cannot be well without it. Get Gude's Pepto-Mangan of your druggist. It is sold in both liquid and tablet form.

American Embassy, Tokyo.

October 26, 2 P. M.

Please inform the Department that an official statement has appeared in the press admitting the accusing documents in the Clarke case to have been a "provocation" or, as we would say, a frame-up; the innocence of Clarke is attested by the denial of all of the damaging stories. The paper printed the most outrageous inventions has failed to publish the official statement, and Clarke intends to sue it.

"FALSEHOODS FURNISHED PAPERS BY JAPANESE"

Assistance of Clarke have been advised by reporters that the falsehoods were furnished by the newspapers by the Japanese and that the whole scheme was concocted by the latter.

I plan to write to the President of the Government tomorrow, if Clarke is not tendered a satisfactory apology today, calling attention to the official statement; at the same time demanding a copy of the official minutes of the search and the names of the persons who invented the provocation, stating also that by only apologizing to the Japanese the Government will not make it necessary for me to look for an explanation, whether that explanation be neglect of international courtesy or yielding to international influences, pointing out that its prestige would be diminished by either supposition.

A section of the inter-allied committee in charge of the Eastern Siberian railways, of which Major F. M. Clarke, victim of the "search" order, is the technical chief. Bottom row (left to right), COLONEL BROZ, Czechoslovak; COLONEL WILSON, British; the Russian representative; GENERAL HOSHINO, Japanese; COLONEL GALLAGHER, American; the French representative; COLONEL CHIA, Chinese. Upper row (left to right), Adjutant to General OI, former commander-in-chief of Japanese forces in Siberia; the Italian representative; French translator; MAJOR F. M. CLARKE, American technical expert, the victim of the "search" plot; an unidentified member; secretary of the board Vunyn, Russia; CAPTAIN HIMI, translator to General Hoshino; VASSILOFF, Russian representative of original committee in charge of traffic on the Russian railroads, and a Japanese colonel, now member of the general staff and chief of aviation, war ministry, Tokyo. Inset shows CAPTAIN JAMES MOREARTY, U. S. M. C., commander of the marine guard on the U. S. cruiser Albany, upon whom devolves a heavy share of the responsibility for saving Americans in Vladivostok against future attacks by the Japanese.

ONLY AFTER FAILURE TO GET MAJOR CLARKE

The American Consul's recognition of the "indignity and wrong done" by the Japanese search and the "unjustified and malicious" denunciation of a representative of the United States of America, who during nearly four years has labored wholeheartedly and solely for the good of the Russian people, came only after the Japanese had failed to get Major Clarke, and to murder him by the means adopted.

Reference again to original documents show that simultaneously with this activity of the American Consul in explaining and excusing himself to the Japanese Embassy at Tokyo and the Secretary and Department of State in Washington, Major General Clarke, who during nearly four years has labored wholeheartedly and solely for the good of the Russian people, was being persecuted by the Japanese.

Press Class Hears Part of Interview 'Killed' by Kaiser

CHICAGO, Feb. 17 (By the Associated Press).—William Bayard Rustin's famous interview with the German Kaiser, sold to the Century Magazine in 1908 for $1000, and partly printed before it was suppressed, was almost made known to the world last night by William Webster Ellsworth, former president of the Century Publishing company and great-grandson of Noah Webster.

During the famous interview were told to the students of the Medill School of Journalism after reporters had promised not to make them public.

"It was," he asked Mrs. Edith Rockefeller McCormick, daughter of John D. Rockefeller, at the conclusion of the address, "that the Kaiser said about my father? Do tell me, even though it was unfavorable."

"My dear lady," replied Noah Webster's great-grandson, "I can only remember that it was unfavorable. Other than that I remember nothing in that part of the interview."

"And every single copy of the interview was taken 500 miles out into the Atlantic ocean and there burned by a picked detachment of German naval officers, who spent five days in the furnace rooms of a warship to do it."

GERMAN WARSHIP SENT FOR MANUSCRIPT COPIES.

Ellsworth told how William Bayard Rustin obtained permission to interview the Kaiser, and how the latter spoke freely to him on scores of subjects while pacing the decks of a yacht in the moonlight. He told how the Century people bought it and suppressed it after requests to do this poured in on them when the London Telegraph printed an interview with the Kaiser that aroused much ill feeling in England and also in Germany.

He told how President Roosevelt was given a copy and how all the other printed stories were placed in a safety deposit vault and later were turned over to the German government, which sent a warship here to get them. But what it was all about, he refused to tell for publication.

Marconi Perfecting New Wireless Alarm

LONDON, Feb. 13.—A new wireless-operated bell-alarm is being tested to take the place on certain ships, of the usual "S O S" signal.

"Our experiments," said an official of the Marconi Wireless Company, "have produced an instrument of the 'you touch the button and we do the rest' kind, with the use of which small ships need only carry one wireless operator instead of three."

"Briefly, the instrument is a four-second bell-alarm. By merely touching a key and repeating a four-second beat three times a bell is rung on all similarly-fitted ships within a range of a hundred miles."

"This range is by no means final; we hope to extend it to two hundred."

Woman Is Pursued Block by Russian

The police are searching today for a man who accosted Mrs. A. W. Nickels as she was returning home late last night and pursued her for more than a block. Screaming for help the woman ran into her home at 1511 Jackson street and notified the police. Inspectors were unable to find any trace of the man.

According to the story she told detectives, Mrs. Nickels was returning home last night at about 11:30 o'clock from a theater. She was crossing a vacant lot at Fourteenth and Jackson street when the man sprang out from behind a fence. He attempted to grab her, but Mrs. Nickels ran. The man chased her almost to her doorstep, where, apparently frightened at her screams, he disappeared.

"LOCATE" IDEAS IS ADVICE FOR FILM AUTHORS

Richard Barthlemess Tells How He Insisted On Following Writer's Theme.

Here is what Richard Barthlemess, film star, has to say to authors of TRIBUNE scenario-stories:

"Write of things that you know something about. When I was asked to play 'To-Be David', I asked Joseph Hergesheimer, the author, if he didn't have some definite place in mind when he wrote the book. He said he did, a definite place in the Carolina mountains. I insisted on going there and getting into the spirit of the place, and there the scenes were taken. I felt I had to know the things the character knew before I could attempt to play the part.

"You may not know it, but in the movie directors use all kinds of tricks to make their actors feel at home in their settings. In one scene in 'Way Down East' I had to sit in the farmhouse and look mournful and wistful. We had rehearsed it several times and the orchestra played plaintive negro tunes, but I couldn't somehow feel sad enough for it to show well on the screen. Suddenly I heard from away off the melancholy, mournful whistle of a train. You know how lonesome you feel in the country to hear a distant train whistle as it goes across the horizon and onto some big city that you've never seen. The whining call of that whistle carried me right into the spirit of the moment and before I knew it the camera had ground, the expression had been caught.

"In your story give plenty of opportunity for emotion. Stories must give actors chances to show feelings. Facial expression is the thing that stories are told with, remember.

"Some directors shoot revolvers off behind actors so that they can catch the real expression of fear, but the usual way of making an actor feel the reality of the thing he is trying to express is for the director to sit in an arm chair right under the camera and talk directly to the players, discussing the scenes with them, coaching them, coaxing them, trying to work them into the proper feeling for the scene.

"The same thing you should do for yourself. Work on something that is real to you and work yourself up to make it more and more real."

Here is how THE TRIBUNE will divide its $5000 cash prizes for Scenario-Stories. Chicago Banker Tells Young Men Formula of Success

CHICAGO, Feb. 17.—"Earn your easy chair!"

This is the advice to young men given by James B. Forgan, who has just announced his "semi-retirement" from active business. He gave up his position as chairman of the Clearing House Committee to permit a younger man to take hold of big banking affairs.

"I wouldn't say that there is any certain age at which a man should retire—the time is whenever he feels that he has earned his 'easy chair'."

"I am able to ease up at seventy with four banks."

"I retired because I felt that it was time for me to spend part of the day enjoying myself at ease," the banker said. "I have been thinking of easing up for about a year. So the other day I said, 'What's the chairmanship of a committee after you have had it? Take care of your health! Spend some years in your easy chair!'"

His formula for success?

"Be serious; work hard and keep your mind on what you are doing."

"The young men of today, it strikes me," he continued, "need more 'encouragement' than they did when I was a boy. There are too many clock watchers—too many willing to give up after a short struggle."

"I was sixteen when I was apprenticed in a small bank in Scotland. I struggled hard and endured hardships to succeed. I worked—and it was a grind, not the 10 to 4 o'clock hours that young men in my banks put in. And when I was barely twenty I was rewarded by an appointment to a branch house in Montreal."

"I worked hard, I was serious and I kept my mind on what I was doing."

Nimrod Slays Giant White-Tail Buck

CRESTON, B. C., Feb. 18.—The biggest white-tail deer ever killed in the Kootenay country fell recently to the rifle of Richard Peterson, who ranches near the soldier settlement of Lister.

It weighed 384 pounds after being dressed. For a white-tail deer it was a giant. Pioneers of the region say it is the largest deer of its species they ever heard of.

The Kootenay was once a secluded fastness penetrated only by trappers. It is now a farming country noted for its orchard fruits.

HIGH TAXES CLOSE FINE OLD ESTATE

LONDON, Feb. 17.—High taxation has forced another British nobleman to desert a historic family seat and seek residence more in accord with his post-war pocketbook.

Hopeton House, Linlithgowshire, a fine Italian mansion set in stately domain of beautiful Versailles gardens, one of the finest country estates in Scotland, and the home of the Marquis of Linlithgow, is to be closed. Seventy employees will be dismissed or transferred to other work.

The estate has been handed from father to son since 1703.

"Local and imperial taxes are too much for me," the Marquis told the Edinburgh interviewer. "Like Jack Spratt and spouse they leave nothing. A British noble lord, with no vote in such matter, is in a class with paupers and lunatics. Times are changed and we are changed with them," he philosophized.

That the position of landed gentry of England and Scotland truly is difficult is evidenced by the fact that before 1916 the Marquis had disposed of his pack of hounds and all

Money Is Loaned To Needy Students

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Feb. 17.—For more than a quarter of a century the University of Michigan has been loaning money to needy students, and over that span of years has never lost a cent through wilful failure of the borrower to repay.

Several funds now are available under the plan that had its inception with the class of 1894, which established a fund from which the loan came "to be used as a loan fund for the benefit of needy and worthy undergraduates in the literary department." Afterwards, surpluses from various class treasuries were diverted to the fund, and although in general, the loaning privilege was limited to students of the literary college, a good portion of the money has been made available to students in other branches of the university.

ACTOR FOLK AND PUBLIC ENJOYING GO-TO-SHOW WEEK

Oakland Playhouses Filled At Every Performance by Delighted Patrons.

"Why go to the theater?" If there is any man, woman or child in this city who does not know the answer to this question let him, her or it be advised forthwith that: This is "Go to the Theater Week."

The theater managers of Oakland have arranged a holiday of joy for the patrons of the theater. Motion picture producers and big play producers have united with the directors of the variety stage for the event.

The result has been a series of splendid bills appearing at the various theaters in the city.

Such programs have never been seen in this community at one time.

The theaters are packed to the doors at every performance, and rightfully so.

AUDIENCE HAPPY. The audiences are seeing shows of exceptional merit and the actors are winning applause in volumes even in the veterans.

Each theater in the city has something good to offer.

Patrons are going to different theaters this week. Each day they are trying out house new to them and receiving another surprise.

Meanwhile the theater managers are preparing for "the week after."

They have set an unusually high standard for themselves and now they must meet it.

Next week will not be "Go to the Theater Week," but it will be another great week, if the advance notices count for anything.

KING JOY REIGNS. Meanwhile King Joy reigns supreme throughout the local section of the theatrical world.

So pronounced has been the success of "Go to the Theater Week" that theaters are planning to have a similar event.

Telegrams congratulating the theater managers continue to come into Oakland and telegrams asking details of the week are also arriving in masses.

Doubt seems to have arisen in the minds of the outside theater managers that such a week could be staged at this time.

The Oakland theater managers need not talk of the success of the week. The answer is in the box office statements.

Record-breaking crowds have been in evidence at every theater in the city for the past week.

Record-making shows have been occupying the limelight of public attention.

Howat Threatens to Unhose Miners' Chief

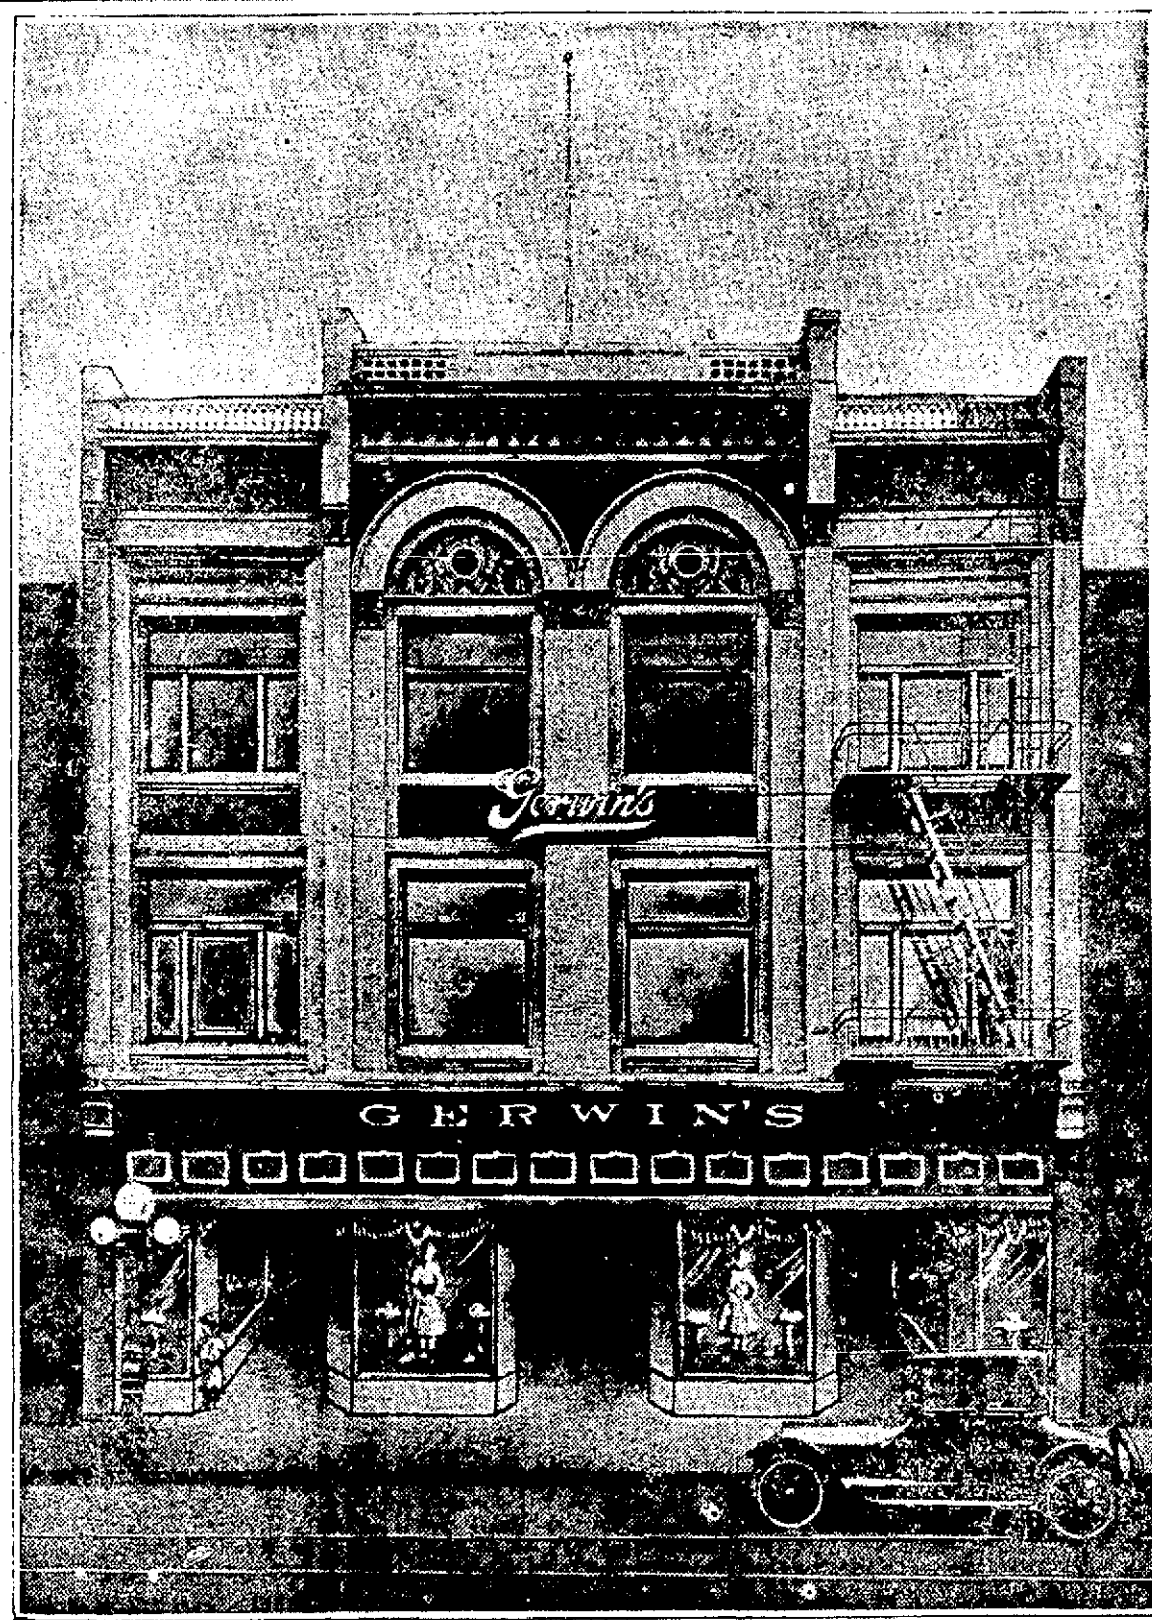

INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 17.—The factional fight in the United Mine Workers' wage convention today threatened the power of John L. Lewis and his administration.

Alexander Howat and his out-lawed Kansas followers showed unexpected strength in the early part of a roll call on the question of reinstating them in the union. Fifty-two delegates generally considered Lewis strongholds voting at the morning session were 735 to 540 against taking Howat back into the fold.

The strike vote of 500,000 coal miners will be taken in six weeks, unless mine owners agree before April 1 to continue the present basic wage scale, union officials said today.

EPWORTH TO ENTERTAIN. A musical entertainment will be given at the Oakland auditorium Tuesday evening, March 14, by the Epworth League Alliance of Alameda county. The league is endeavoring to alleviate the unemployment situation.

Exclusive Women's Shop Adds a Special Sports Department; to Open Tomorrow

Gerwin's, on Thirteenth, between Broadway and Washington, which opens tomorrow with a special sports department. The building has just been remodeled. The store will now handle millinery, cloaks and suits and sporting apparel for women.

Popular Boy Scout Claimed by Death

ALAMEDA, Feb. 17.—Elkan Kahn, 13-year-old son of Mrs. Sol Kahn, 1230 Sherman street, and member of Scout Troop 2, died after a short illness yesterday. The boy was one of the most popular members of the troop and his death came as a complete surprise. He was prominent in all the work of the Scouts in Alameda and had passed a number of the tests. The funeral will be held in San Francisco.

Man Jailed Anew For Unpaid Alimony

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 17.—Captain Aage Rasmussen, whose failure to pay his wife, Nellie, an alimony settlement of $5000 resulted in his being committed to the county jail for contempt was sent back to prison today, following an appeal to a higher tribunal. He appeared in court and being unable to explain how he had spent $11,000, of which $3000 was to have gone to his wife, Judge Graham ordered that he go back again to prison.

Seeks Missing Santa Barbara Girl Here

State-wide search has been instituted for Miss Mary Rodriguez, 20, who disappeared from the home of her father, M. V. Rodriguez, wealthy dairy man of Santa Barbara county last Tuesday, leaving a note in which she gave Oakland as her destination. Miss Rodriguez is a prominent member of the Santa Barbara lodge of the Native Daughters of the Golden West. She had been ill for some time, according to her father, who is in Oakland conducting a personal search.

Washington Notes

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—Suspension of $1140,000 in payment of all claims against the government for land taken over by the army during the war is provided in a bill passed today by the Senate to amend the army appropriation act of 1915.

President Harding and Chairman Lasker of the standing board have agreed not to recommend any of the German loans owned by the United States during the war, it was learned at the shipping board today.

J. W. Worthington, representing the Tennessee River Improvement Association, regarding his testimony today in the House hearing on the proposed bill to develop the Tennessee river, estimated that 1,000,000 horsepower could be developed in the upper Tennessee river in addition to 150,000 at Muscle Shoals.

The Senate today passed the bill paying the war for the War Department to complete the acquisition of real estate at a number of army camps and supply bases which was taken over during the extension of facilities during the war.

Final action on the American valuation part of the tariff reduction bill was postponed today by Republican members of the Senate finance committee to await an opinion from the state department regarding effect of the proposed clause on several treaties, including those with "most favored nation" provisions.

Alteration and Enlargement Completed; Many Novel Features to Greet Patrons' Eyes

Gerwin's, on Thirteenth street, between Broadway and Washington, will open tomorrow with a new special sports department. The building has just been remodeled and a new front put in. The ready-to-wear cloak and suit department, opened a few months ago, has been enlarged and improved for the new opening. It is now a complete department devoted exclusively to women. It will now include millinery, a ready-to-wear cloak and suit department and sporting apparel.

A feature of the cloak and suit department will be special rest rooms, where the women may go to enjoy their monogrammed cigarettes.

"The cigarette idea may shock a few persons," said one of the representatives of the firm today, "but we feel confident that it will meet with universal favor. It is in line with our policy of keeping up-to-date in every respect."

The specialty sports department will be located on the main floor. This is said to be the only thing of its kind in Oakland. Here will be placed on sale the wearing apparel necessary for women golfers, horsewomen and to women devotees of all sports.

"We want to keep the people of Oakland shopping at home," was the ambition expressed by one of the firm's representatives today.

The work of remodeling the store began shortly after Christmas. An entire new front was put in, a store next door was added to the structure and all floors save the second floor were remodeled. The second floor will continue to be devoted to millinery.

There are 14 individual saalrooms in the cloak and suit department. The store front involves several new ideas in window construction. The window work is said to be the best on the Pacific Coast. The lights are concealed in the ceiling and throw a bright even light without producing a glare on the eyes. The arcades are so designed that the spaces between them will not become crowded. One window is modeled like a stage, with a proscenium arch and colored spotlights. Tasse car-pets and draperies are used in the window decorations.

Discontent over the big memory of Zaza, whom he must give up, struggles between a hundred considerations of right and wrong, and can find no solution. The music tells all.

NORTHWESTERN STUDENTS WANT HONOR SYSTEM

CHICAGO, Feb. 17.—A return to the honor system at Northwestern university was recommended in today's issue of the student publication, the Daily Northwestern. The paper says that erubing during examinations is steadily increasing since abolishment of the honor system two years ago, and the adoption in its stead of the Proctor system, providing for a faculty member in every room where an examination is held. Students try to outwit the faculty members, the paper says, and would not cheat if there were no monitor in the room.

"That is the ideal commonwealth, I believe, which shall be composed wholly of landowners. As transportation facilities have increased, vast tracts of land have been cut into small parcels and sold on easy terms within the reach of wage earners. The time is not far distant when it shall be the function of the government to assist the worthy wage earner in the financing of a home as it is now to finance the worthy farmer with his farm."

Abraham discussed the title to real property, the source of title, the transfer of title, the recording system, and showed how because of the technical difficulties it is impossible for the average untrained man to search his own title and establish its validity. He then discussed title insurance.

A policy of title insurance is a contract of indemnity issued by a corporation duly bonded and authorized by law to insure and to guarantee the title to real property. It is an absolute guarantee that if the actual title be other than the facts appear, and if any loss or damage is sustained by the assured, the assured will be indemnified."

LAND BASIS OF NATION'S WEALTH, EXPERT DECLARES

No Other Form of Property Indestructible, None Gives Owner So Much Pride.

Telling in detail the story of the development of land titles and the modern methods of searching titles, and declaring that a country where land was universally owned would produce the best grade of citizenship, Ira Abraham, secretary of the Oakland Title Insurance and Guaranty company, addressed members of the Optimist club at the Hotel Oakland today.

Abraham said that the best citizens would be produced in such a country because land is the real basis of all wealth, and therefore its ownership increases a man's self-respect. He pointed to title insurance as the only positive guarantee between buyer and seller in transferring real estate.

"We have been told that labor is the basis of wealth," he said, "and again with equal insistence that capital is the basis. Once again we are informed that without intelligence directing both labor and capital, wealth cannot be produced."

"But if you inquire deeply you are bound to find that real property is the foundation upon which they were all built. The reason is obvious. No other form of property is tangible, permanent and indestructible as is land. No other form of property so fills the possessor with the pride of ownership, as does the ownership of land. When the common man began to hold land in fee, then began his real freedom; for with that event he became a landlord, a lord of the land, and not a mere appearance to the land, passing with it to the new overlord as did the cattle and the swine."

I believe, which shall be composed wholly of landowners. As transportation facilities have increased, vast tracts of land have been cut into small parcels and sold on easy terms within the reach of wage earners. The time is not far distant when it shall be the function of the government to assist the worthy wage earner in the financing of a home as it is now to finance the worthy farmer with his farm."

Abraham discussed the title to real property, the source of title, the transfer of title, the recording system, and showed how because of the technical difficulties it is impossible for the average untrained man to search his own title and establish its validity. He then discussed title insurance.

Deaf, Dumb Notary Is Victor in Suit

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 17.—That a notary public is not responsible for the identification of persons signing affidavits attested by him was the decision rendered in Superior Judge Fitzpatrick's court today when a jury decided in favor of Martin Aronson. The latter, a notary public, is both deaf and dumb. Stephen Anderson, an Alameda carpenter, filed suit against him in connection with a loan which had been made to persons proved to be impostors.

Will for $100,000 Estate Is Filed

The will of Thomas Crowley, pioneer of California, who died on January 31, was filed for probate today with County Clerk George Gross. It disposes of an estate estimated to be worth about $100,000, the bulk of which is bequeathed to his widow, Edith A. Crowley, and his son, Thomas J. Crowley, a minor. Bequests of $500 to $1000 each are made to a number of nieces and nephews in Ireland.

Worn Out In Mind and Body

Your child is quick to observe disturbances in your mental attitude or physical condition. And when he asks: "What's the matter, Daddy?" there's a tone of solemn anxiety in his little voice. The depression stamped upon your face reflects intensely upon him because of his profound solicitude. He at once drops his playthings and rushes to your side, but his happy smile has disappeared and his buoyant spirit is gone—replaced by a countenance of worry and a bearing of hopelessness.

You owe it to the happiness and welfare of your family to keep trim in body and keen in intellect. You are the sun and the inspiration of their lives. Dark, threatening clouds hover over their heads the instant you show signs of being "out of sorts" or "under the weather." Don't imperil their future by neglecting your health.

LYKO

The Great General Tonic

will banish that "tired feeling" and dispel that worn-out look. It will renew your strength and vigor, overcome the ravishing effects of overwork and worry, revive your appetite, a valuable aid to digestion and a worthy promoter of the general health, because of its positive revitalizing and reconstructive value. Its use is especially desirable in cases of subnormal conditions. If you suffer from nervous exhaustion, muscular or mental fatigue, or deficiency of vital force due to general weakness or wasting illness, you'll find "LYKO" particularly beneficial. It comes up the entire system and keeps you feeling fit. Ask your druggist for a bottle today.

Try This If You Have Dandruff

There is one sure way that never fails to remove dandruff completely and that is to dissolve it. This destroys it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it. No matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive, and four ounces is all you will need. This simple remedy has never been known to fail.—Advertisement.

WIFE MARS POLO PLAYER'S PLAN TOWED ANOTHER

Announcement of Engagement Followed by Denial of Divorce Agreement.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 17.—Further complications in the domestic affairs of Mrs. Sally Polk Merritt, Mrs. Altadena Neustadt and her husband, polo player and reserve officer, are seen today by friends in the announcement by Mrs. Neustadt that she has no intention of divorcing her husband, an amazed that he even considered this possibility.

The complications are created by the fact that Neustadt disclosed yesterday that she plans to marry Mrs. Merritt as soon as Mrs. Neustadt had obtained a decree. He said his wife was in New Jersey for this purpose.

Mrs. Merritt at the same time confirmed Neustadt's statement. But Mrs. Neustadt was located in New York last night and was quoted in news despatches as expressing surprise at the reports, declaring at the same time she questioned the veracity of the reports. She said she was not contemplating obtaining a divorce, and that, as a matter of fact, if she desired to do so it would be impossible, as she has not grounds for such an action.

Neustadt is at his home in Pasadena. Mrs. Merritt is in San Francisco. Friends of the couple are awaiting the next development in the situation with considerable interest.

Confucius Blamed For Chinese Sloth

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 17.—"China, with its immense population, cannot stand on its own feet until the type of unpatrician politicians evolved by Confucianism has given place to a generation of Christian patriots."

Dr. Burton, who is one of the leading theological authors of the country, visited the Orient as president of a special commission which has studied the subject of Christian Education in China.

Dr. Burton says that the civil war now raging in China has a little effect on that country as a whole, as a strike in West Virginia has in the United States. Dr. Burton says the Peking government is a "mere shadow," and whatever government there is in China rests with the governors of the provinces.

BUNCO ARTISTS SWINDLE MAN OUT OF LIFE'S SAVINGS

San Jose Resident Loses $6300
On Tale of Fake Gold
Minc.

SAN JOSE, Feb. 17.—Local police are looking for two men said to have swindled Frank Albini, 278 Terrance street, out of $6300 yesterday. One of the men is about 55 years old and the other about 28, according to descriptions furnished by Albini.

Albini said he met the men at Fortieth and San Pablo, Oakland, yesterday. They bought a couple of drinks for him and unfolded a map of a scheme which touched his heart. They said they had two gold mines and that they desired to give $30,000 to the poor.

"You look like the sort of person we can trust to handle this large sum of money for us," they told Albini. "Of course, you would have to show us a few thousand dollars of your own money—merely a matter of form, you know—to back up the honesty so evident in your face and actions."

Albini returned to San Jose, after thinking his new acquaintances for their generous offer and telling them he would think it over. At 2:30 p. m. he returned to Oakland and he and the two men came back to San Jose on the 5:30 bus.

At Albini's shop on San Pedro street the men turned the supposed $30,000 over to Albini. The currency was rolled up and wadded into a black folder. Albini produced his lifetime's savings—$6300—done up in a bandana handkerchief. The men took out his money and counted it, then apparently put it back in the handkerchief.

At about midnight last night Albini untied the handkerchief and found it full of these papers. He opened the black folder and found

Lillian's Satires On Marriage Bluff; She Adores Hubby

"They say marriage is a union. It's a trust. And I'm a walking delegate. If you're going to get married better have a round-trip ticket. Married life is the ideal way to live. It's the only way to find heaven on earth. And I'm for home life every time. It's a very comfortable situation to have a good husband at home. Married life is the life."

These contradictory statements issued almost in one breath are not indicative of woman's prerogative. An actress who recently has been entertaining Oaklanders, Lillian Shaw Goldstein, is authority for them and she means every word.

As Lillian Shaw she speaks the first two sentences twice each day with venom and emphasis. As Mrs. John Goldstein, wife of a few days of the wealthy local manufacturer, she recited the last sentences. It all happens in this wise.

There are two personalities. Lillian Shaw, the comedienne, has spent a lifetime indulging in creaming funny caricatures and satires on married life.

Then she succumbed to one of the Cupidian darts and stuttered a tremulous "yes" to the well-known question propounded by the clergyman.

"One thing, my husband went into matrimony only after mature deliberation," said Mrs. Goldstein. "Ours is an old romance. He is a perfect husband because he is a man thoroughly compatible with myself, has a keen sense of humor, is willing to co-operate with me and to make our home a 50-50 affair."

"If folks when they marry would only stop to realize that married life is not all a bed of roses and be willing to accept the rough roads with the same good spirit that they accept the smooth, if they would only be reasonable, there would be no more business for the divorce courts."

But every night and every afternoon Lillian Shaw pushes the battered baby carriage out before the footlights and expounds learnedly and satirically on how "married life is to be a wife." Just now she is expounding at Los Angeles.

ASSESSOR SEES NOWAY TO LOWER CITY ASSESSMENT

Says If Richmond's Valuations
Are Lowered Rest of County
Will Want the Same.

RICHMOND, Feb. 17.—County Assessor George O. Meese was the guest yesterday of joint committees recently appointed by the Richmond Industrial Commission and the Richmond Realty Board to see what can be done about downward revision of assessment rolls. At noon Meese and the committee dined at a local grill, where the position of Richmond property owners was explained. The county assessor warned of the utter impossibility of his office reducing Richmond assessments unless assessments in other parts of the county were also reduced.

He declared his willingness, however, to go over the assessment rolls with Richmond representatives and readjust assessments which may be too high or too low. Following the luncheon Meese and the committee members examined the assessment rolls at the office of Deputy Assessor E. P. Vaughan.

At luncheon Meese took exception to the claim set forth by Richmond property owners that this city is paying about 40 per cent of the county's taxes.

"Figures compiled at Martinez," Meese explained, "indicate that Richmond is paying slightly in excess of 20 per cent. Your county tax last year amounted to 2.67, but 1.63 of this was returned to Richmond in the schools."

Speaking of the tendency during the past three years to lower assessments on most lots in Richmond, Meese said that 95 per cent of Richmond's property owners last year had valuations reduced. "The increase for the city over the previous year was due," Meese explained, "to the big increase at the Standard Oil plant. In the matter of schools, Meese stated, Richmond is getting more than its share of county money."

"Every increase of 350 pupils in the local attendance," said Meese, "means an extra teacher for that one extra teacher in the county's schools, nine of them being employed here in Richmond."

The following committees conferred with the county assessor: Harry Bills, Harry W. Werns, Geo. G. Well, Mrs. Tillie Brown and H. G. Sidham of the Richmond Industrial Commission and E. H. Kuefer, Frank Gardner, H. A. Johnston, M. A. Hays and W. J. Richards Jr. of the Richmond Realty Board.

RESIDENCE DIST. HAS GROCERIES

A grocerteria in the residence district is truly the last word in modern merchandising. The management of the White House Grocerteria Company, operating a chain of grocery stores throughout the East, has just opened a store at the corner of Oakland and Santa Clara avenues. As a member of the company stated yesterday: "We have brought the economies of the large stores to the people, thereby saving them the annoyance of a trip downtown on market days. And the best part of it all is that the low prices are not for a few days of the week but for every day."

Other stores of this company are operated at East 14th and 35th avenues; 23rd and East 20th, and Foot-hill boulevard and Crocker-Hartman street. The market quotations govern the selling price. Every drop in the wholesale prices is immediately reflected in the prices charged at White House Grocerterias.

DELICATESSEN DEPT. An innovation in grocerteria practice at the new store is the delicatessen department, where a large assortment of cold roast meats, cheese, relishes, sausages, salads, etc., is always on hand.

CAKES AND PASTRIES A complete line of Mrs. Glenn's famous cakes and pastries are received fresh daily at the Oakland and Santa Clara avenues store. The quality of Mrs. Glenn's products need no comment here, as they are recognized throughout the bay district as the best that can be produced.—Advertisement.

WIDOW'S YACHT IN COURT'S NET

SAN RAFAEL, Feb. 17.—An attachment for $5000 was today levied against the sea-going launch, "On Time Again," by Attorney Walter E. Dorn, representing Ena M. Harper, of San Francisco. W. L. Stevenson, the alleged owner of the craft, is named defendant in yesterday's action. Upon receipt of the writ, Sheriff J. J. Keating took charge of the craft which is anchored off Belvedere.

No sooner had the attachment been levied, however, when a third party claim for $3332.25 was filed with Sheriff Keating against the craft by Attorney Jerome B. White, representing George Kohn of San Francisco, who claims to be the owner of the crack motor launch. Kohn, the claim filed yesterday sets forth, came into possession of the boat through Stevenson's failure to pay a mortgage when due.

The launch, Kohn declares, was to have been sold at auction next Saturday to satisfy his claim. Pending investigation by the authorities of the rival claims, the launch will remain in the hands of the authorities, Sheriff J. J. Keating said last night.

The "On Time Again" came into the limelight more than a year ago when the craft, then the property of a wealthy widow of Seattle, was believed by federal authorities to be engaged in a gun-running plot to bring assistance to revolutionists in Mexico. It developed, however, that the trip south was only a pleasure cruise.

M'CORMICK GIRL MAY WED HEAD OF RIDING ACADEMY

Young Heiress in Chicago to Get Mother's Consent.
Is Report.

CHICAGO, Feb. 17.—(By International News Service.)—Mathilde C. McCormick, beautiful 16-year-old daughter of Harold F. McCormick and granddaughter of John D. Rockefeller, is in Chicago today, where it is reported she is endeavoring to gain the consent of her mother, Mrs. Edith Rockefeller McCormick, to her marriage to the proprietor of a riding academy in Zurich, Switzerland.

Miss McCormick is said already to have obtained the consent of her father, Miss McCormick and her mother, Mrs. Edith Rockefeller McCormick, to her marriage to the proprietor of a riding academy in Zurich, Switzerland.

McCormick and his wife were separated in one of the fastest divorce actions ever heard in the local courts. Society circles here are deeply stirred by the reports that Miss McCormick plans to marry Max Oser, whose age is said to be 48. According to reports here, the wedding probably will take place in the summer if no obstacles intervene.

Miss McCormick went to Switzerland eight years ago with her mother and has remained abroad since that time.

According to reports here, she became acquainted with Oser while a pupil at the riding academy he conducts. Oser, it is said, is a member of an old established Swiss family, despite his apparently humble occupation.

CHICAGO, Feb. 17.—Mrs. Edith Rockefeller McCormick today refused to confirm or deny reports published here quoting her 15-year-old daughter, Mathilde, as saying that she would marry Max Oser, 48-year-old riding teacher in Zurich, Switzerland. In response to requests from a dozen reporters, Mrs. McCormick's secretary finally gave the following statement:

"Mrs. McCormick has nothing whatever to say concerning these reports, either one way or the other."

Miss Mathilde McCormick was said to be published reports to have obtained the consent of her father, Harold McCormick, to the marriage.

NEW YORK, Feb. 17.—Miss Mathilde McCormick, 15-year-old daughter of Harold F. McCormick of Chicago and granddaughter of John D. Rockefeller, is head, whole and fancy free, her sister, Mrs. Muriel McCormick, said today. She denied a report that her sister had ever sought parental blessing upon her proposed marriage to Max Oser, 48-year-old conductor of a riding academy in Zurich, Switzerland.

Police Upheld in Detaining Michael

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 17.—The Supreme Court today decided that Garhardt C. F. Michael of Oakland had not entitled to a $300 judgment against former Chief of Police John L. Butler of Los Angeles and other officials of the Police Department there, as a result of his arrest and detention one night in jail as an alleged deserter during the war.

Michael had registered for the draft in Oakland, and after he was picked up in the south his status was obtained by wiring the local board in Alameda county and he was released.

The Supreme Court in reversing the decision holds that the officers were only doing their duty during war times in questioning and detaining citizens, and that while the inconvenience to Michael was unfortunate they could not be held responsible.

Cannon were first mentioned in England in 1338.

COMMONS BEATS AMENDMENT OF FREE STATE ACT

Irish Measure Passed to Second Reading After Lively Debate.

LONDON, Feb. 17.—(By The Associated Press.)—The bill establishing the Irish free state passed its second reading in the House of Commons today after the amendment of the bill by Charles Craig, leader of the Ulster unionists, for altering the boundary commission, provisions of the Anglo-Irish treaty had been defeated by a vote of 202 to 60.

With the amendment decisively defeated, the second reading was adopted without a division. The amendment thus disposed of stipulated that in view of the fact that the Ulster unionists, for the creation of a boundary commission, such provision was in direct abrogation of Ulster's rights under the Ireland Act of 1920.

Lord Hugh Cecil charged the government with treating the Sinn Féin as if it were a constituted government, adding:

"Now that we have found it is not a government, and that owing to a terrible character are breaking out, I think the bill ought to be rejected."

DEMAND STRAIGHT DEAL.

Former Premier Asquith vigorously supported the bill, saying that the boundary question was an integral part of the treaty and that it would be impossible to escape the charge of gross bad faith if there were any repudiation.

Prime Minister Lloyd George, interrupting an attack on the government by Thomas Moles, Unionist member for the Ormeau division of Belfast, contradicted the Ulster member's assertion that the government had assured Sir James Craig that the boundary adjustment would be of a minor character while promising Michael Collins extensive changes.

Heated altercation ensued between Moles and Lloyd George over this point.

Ulster demands a straight deal, exclaimed Moles, who said in conclusion:

"If a breach is made in the wall surrounding the Ulster area and invasion is attempted we will stand in the breach and defend it or fill it with our dead bodies."

The vote came after two days of strenuous debate in the commons during which another combined attempt was made on the part of the Ulsterites and Unionist "die hards" to kill the treaty. The Ulsterites "hatched" opened the debate yesterday with what some of the London newspapers today termed the greatest oratorical effort of his career.

WAS READY FOR WAR.

During the debate Austin Chamberlain, the government leader, revealed to the house that at one point in his negotiations with Eamon de Valera the government thought the struggle in Ireland would have to be renewed and communicated with military and police advisers concerning requirements for bringing the struggle to a successful conclusion. He said the government had been prepared to raise 100,000 men in addition to putting all available troops into Ireland and to wage this most cruel form of war month after month, if necessary.

Speeches for labor members, J. H. Thomas asserted that the chief difficulty confronting Michael Collins and Arthur Griffith was not the followers of de Valera, but the advocates of a soviet republic.

MANSION IS BURNED.

BELFAST, Feb. 17.—There was further incendiarism last night in County Tyrone, where early yesterday an unsuccessful effort was made to destroy the Strabane workhouse, which the military had commandeered for barracks purposes. A large mansion near Ballygawley, owned by a Belfast firm, was destroyed by fire during the night. Quantities of hay, saturated with petrol had been placed in the rooms.

From these incidents the inference is drawn in police quarters here that the Tyrone Sinn Féiners are attempting to see to it that the crown forces shall not have temporary barracks in that county.

LONDON, Feb. 17.—Forty-two Unionists kidnapped from Ulster by Sinn Féin raiders have been released through efforts of Michael Collins, it was announced in commons today by Austin Chamberlain, government spokesman.

INNOCENT MAN IMPRISONED TEN YEARS IS FREED

MADISON, Wis., Feb. 17.—John A. Johnson was released from the state prison today after serving ten years and six months of a life sentence for the murder here in 1911 of 7-year-old Anna Lemberger, a crime which Governor Blaine had committed.

Johnson did not commit. Six months' investigation into the probable circumstances surrounding the crime to which Johnson pleaded guilty and for which Martin Loucheur, father of the girl, was formally charged with manslaughter on January 5, 1922, brought Governor Blaine to conclude that "there is only one fact which is surely and definitely established, and that is that Johnson did not murder Anna Lemberger."

Who did kill the young girl and later attempted to hide her body in Lake Monona will probably never be definitely established, it is said.

The father availed himself of the statute of limitations, causing the case to be dropped. He had been accused of killing his daughter with a beer bottle during a drinking party at his home when she failed to obey him as promptly as he wished.

It was after ten years spent in the state prison that Johnson protested his innocence and applied to Governor Blaine for a pardon. He then claimed that his confession had been made because of fear that he would be mobbed.

CONTROL OF BIRTH ADVOCATE IN S. F.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 17.—Mrs. Margaret Sanger, exponent of the doctrine of birth control, arrived in San Francisco this morning on her way to Japan, which country she has been invited to visit in order to explain to the Japanese people the benefits of birth control, and to assist in limiting Japan's excessive population.

Mrs. Sanger, who is at the Hotel St. Francis, was assured recently by H. C. Wallis, the eminent English author, that he regarded her mission to Japan as even more important than the Disarmament Conference itself. In this connection Mrs. Sanger said today:

"The greatest danger to the peace of the world lies in over population. Whenever a country is not able to take care of its population, it becomes like a volcano which may erupt at any time. This is the situation in which Japan finds herself today. She has a population of fifty-seven million people, who are herded together in a territory as large as Colorado, but of this territory the greatest part is mountainous. If the Japanese people will accept the doctrine of birth control it will mean the creation of a safety valve."

The birth control has been officially adopted in Holland, where it has been practiced for the last thirty years. The result is that Holland has the lowest infant mortality in the world, the lowest general death rate, and the average stature of her men and women has been increased by four inches.

The walls of prejudice are rapidly crumbling in the United States, and birth control is becoming more and more recognized. The National Birth Control League is now organized in ten states, and this spring we will organize in California.

Mrs. Sanger will address a meeting at Native Sons' hall in San Francisco next Sunday afternoon.

Oil Wells Menaced By Burning 'Gasser'

WHITTIER, Cal., Feb. 17.—A barrage of water is being used to protect Bel Well No. 2, in the burning "gasser" which developed last Saturday in Bell Well No. 2, on the Union Oil company's lease at Santa Fe Springs, near here.

The "gasser" caught fire from friction, then sanded in and spontaneously extinguished the flames, only to catch fire again through friction Wednesday night. The flames at one time were shooting 500 feet into the air, but with the widening of the crater to between thirty and forty feet, the height of the pillar of fire decreased.

Well No. 1 is about 500 feet from No. 2. Water is steadily flowing over its derrick, 125 feet in height.

RESERVATION IN PACIFIC TREATY WILL BE URGED

Senate Committee Considers Four-Power Pact; Harding Seeks Hughes' View.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS
LEASING WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—While President Harding was preparing to communicate with Secretary Hughes today regarding the Senate request for further information on the four-power Pacific treaty, the Senate foreign relations committee considered its preliminary reading of all the arms conference treaties, except that relating to Yap, and laid them aside without action until next week.

No serious opposition was revealed to the general Four Eastern or Chinese tariff pacts, which were read by the committee at today's meeting, but there was considerable discussion of the provision of the naval limitation treaty fixing a fortification "status quo" in the Pacific. Committee members indicated that they would desire the advice of American naval authorities before acting on the provision of the fortifications article.

HUGHES' ADVICE SOUGHT.

Meeting again Monday, the committee is expected to consider the Yap treaty and perhaps have before it at the same time the President's reply to the resolution adopted yesterday asking for records of the four-power treaty negotiations.

Harding is understood to have taken steps to communicate with Secretary Hughes, who has gone to Bermuda, after a visit to the White House today by Senator Lodge, who was a member of the American delegation.

Senator Johnson, Republican, California, and Borah, Republican, Idaho, asked a number of questions as the committee meeting regarding the fortification "status quo" agreement under which the United States pledges not to further fortify the Philippines and Guam. The California Senator told his colleagues that he desired further information as to how the "status quo" was defined and indicated that he would either ask for the appearance of American naval officers before the committee or adoption of a resolution asking the executive branch of the government for the desired data.

ASSURED BY LODGE.

Borah also started a committee discussion regarding the Chinese tariff treaty, asking whether its provisions did not infringe upon the sovereignty of China. He was assured by Lodge that the arrangement was the most satisfactory that could be obtained at the present time, but there were indications that some further discussion would be necessary.

While they waited word from the White House on the four-power pact, the committee members reviewed and indicated that they would project of a reservation declaring that the agreement could not be construed as obligating the United States to use armed force without the express authorization of Congress.

Several members, both Republicans and Democrats, were said to be leaning toward adoption of such a stipulation and all agree that much debate was in prospect both within the committee and on the Senate floor.

Bryan Is Scored By Birge in Reply To Atheist Charge

MADISON, Wis., Feb. 17.—(By Associated Press.)—E. A. Birge, president of the University of Wisconsin, today replied to assertions of William J. Bryan, made here a year ago, and repeated recently, that he, Birge, is an atheist, and an unfit teacher for students because of his acceptance of modern science, including the theory of evolution.

Bryan had objected to expressions of President Birge that his teachings were causing injury to religion because of his attempt to unite the teachings of the Bible to "discredited scientific hypothesis," and he had declared that "when the people of Wisconsin have enough sense to pay the salary of a university president, they expect to find someone who will not ridicule the religion of the parents and grandparents of the students."

In a letter to the Rev. E. S. Worcester, pastor of the First Congregational church, of which President Birge has been an officer for 40 years, he expressed his astonishment at Bryan following his speech to students here declaring that he had "never found it necessary to justify religion to science or excuse science to religion."

Birge accepted both as equally divine revelations and both as equally wrought into the constitution of the world. "President Birge said, 'I have believed that wisdom and might are God's and I have equally believed that science reveals to us how that might and that wisdom are expressed in the operation of the world.'

IS BELATED FOLLOWER.

"Mr. Bryan seemed to dislike especially my objecting to his uniting religion to a 'discredited scientific hypothesis.' I think that the history of the church gives good ground for my objection. In the fifteenth century people were told that the doctrine of a round world was 'atheistic,' and a century or so later the Copernican astronomy was called 'atheistic.' In the nineteenth century evolution in like manner was called 'atheistic' by men whom Mr. Bryan is a belated follower."

"Did such teachings help religion in the past, and is there any real reason to think that Mr. Bryan will succeed where his predecessors have failed miserably during four centuries? Another thing that seems to trouble Mr. Bryan is the fact that I told him his teachings were 'atheistic,' rather than the teachings of evolution."

"I had a real meaning and purpose in this calling the attention of Mr. Birge definitely and sharply to the religious harm that may come from his teachings."

TURN FROM RIGHT TRACK.

"Now if St. Paul was right, if God is to be sought for and found in the teachings that are not far from every one of us, then those who urge us rather to look for God's creative activity in the remote past do err, not knowing the scriptures nor the power of God. They are turning the seeker for God from the right track and putting him on one that is only too likely to lead him away from God."

"The harmful effect of such teachings was clearly seen in many of those who used to organize evolution. They told me that we bear an image of God because of God's work in the creation of a remote ancestor; but they never thought of telling us that God sent forth his spirit and created in his image you and me and every baby that is born. They talked as men who had never found God who is daily and hourly giving to all of us life and breath and all things."

"It was the presence in Mr. Birge's speech of this attitude of mind that called out my protest to him."

The first spike used in the construction of the Northern Pacific was driven in 1870.

FRANCE WILL NOT MEET U. S. DEBT, LOUCHEUR STATES

America's Refusal to Accept Currency or French Goods
Is Blamed.

BALTIMORE, Md., Feb. 17.—Frank R. Kent, foreign representative of the Baltimore Sun, in a cable under Paris date, published in the Sun today, states that in an interview he had with Louis Loucheur, former French minister for devastated regions, Loucheur declared emphatically that France never can pay her debts. The United States bars French goods and will not accept her currency, Loucheur asserts. Kent's cablegram in part said:

"Louis Loucheur, now a member of the chamber of deputies, flatly and emphatically declared that France not only cannot, now or in the near future, pay her debts to America, but can never pay it. Further, he asserted that the reduction of her army will not alter in the least her inability to pay."

"And now you prepare to erect a tariff wall around your country that will still more completely bar out our goods. How utterly illogical and inconsistent is the American attitude."

said Mrs. Mina Raber, 446 Farmworth Ave., Aurora, Ill.

"I was just about two years ago that I began to be distressed almost every day. I had awful smothering spells at times and my heart beat so irregularly that I often thought I wouldn't live through the attack. "Tanlac has done for me far more than I had expected and I'm like a different person altogether. In fact, I'm in perfect health now. In my opinion, Tanlac is the best medicine under the sun."

HOW TO WRITE A WANT AD.

The second principle to keep in mind is definiteness. This is similar to the first principle, clearness. The difference is that the latter refers to the accuracy of the meaning which the words convey, while the former refers to the accuracy of the mental picture which the reader gets.

Want Ad readers are looking for specific articles. They answer first those advertisements which come the nearest to describing just what they are in search of.

Remember, it is answers from people who really want what you have that sells your article, and not the replies of curiosity seekers.

NATIONAL PRUNE WEEK CAMPAIGN BOOSTS SAN JOSE

Newspaper, Magazine Advertising to Lead Drive to Sell Last of 1921 Prune Crop.

SAN JOSE, Feb. 17.—From Maine to California, from Washington to Florida, millions of Americans will join in the observation of National Prune Week which will be held throughout the United States and Canada from February 27 to March 4, under the direction of the California Prune and Apricot Growers' Association, according to plans arranged through the 150 association brokers whose offices are located in every important selling and distributing center in the country.

The attention of the public is to be focused on National Prune Week through forceful advertisements which will be run in such powerful mediums as newspapers, magazines and farm papers. These advertisements will urge the public to eat California prunes at least once a day every day for the week of February 27 to March 4, inclusive.

The newspaper advertising which will be used to carry the message of National Prune Week will start throughout the country the morning papers of Monday, February 27. The remainder of the week newspaper advertising will appear in both morning and evening papers, constantly reminding people that National Prune Week is being observed throughout the United States and that millions of others are eating prunes regularly once a day during the observance of the week.

This newspaper advertising will inaugurate the annual spring newspaper advertising campaign of the local association, which will continue this year for four or five weeks and is being counted upon to insure an early clean-up of all the remaining stocks of 1921 crop prunes.

The complete newspaper advertising schedule for National Prune Week and the spring campaign thereafter has been listed to run in all of the leading morning and evening papers published in eighteen of the largest cities of the United States and Canada, from New York, Boston and Philadelphia on the Atlantic Coast to San Francisco, Oakland and Los Angeles on the Pacific.

Besides these advertisements, it is promised by the association here, these newspapers which blanket the entire national and eastern country with their circulation, will also carry news publicity stories beginning the week preceding National Prune Week, serving to impress on the minds of the public the truly national aspect of the week.

As a result of this great campaign of advertising, which will be augmented by the display of Sunsweet prunes and display cards in the windows of all the leading retail grocery stores, San Jose and Santa Clara county will gain an unprecedented amount of advertising, according to the belief of the officials of the association. In this district the week will be observed as a distinct success last year when the plan of advertising was first inaugurated.

Trade papers throughout the country are already running full page advertisements concerning National Prune Week.

Full Accounting Made To State Prune Growers

SAN JOSE, Feb. 17.—H. C. Coykendall, general manager of the California Prune and Apricot Growers' Association, today issued to the Oakland Tribune a comprehensive statement on the financial affairs of the 1920 prune crop, in which he outlines in detail just what disposition was made of funds received by his association last year on the 1920 crop.

The statement is in direct answer to those who had questioned the crop settlement and puts at rest all conjecture that has been rife for several months.

Coykendall's statement, in full, follows:

"The trade paid the California Prune and Apricot Growers' Association $1,457,146.16 for the 1920 prune crop.

"The association paid the growers $10,266,495.84 for the 1920 prune crop.

"What happened to that $4,590,650.32 difference between the two figures? Where did the money go? Who got it? How was it spent?

"Every grower wants to know the answer to these questions. Every grower has a right to know the answers to those questions and I shall attempt in this statement to explain clearly, forcefully and without any ambiguity just what happened to every penny of that $4,590,650.32.

LEARNS MISUNDERSTANDINGS.

If every grower will read this article with care I think it will clear up any misunderstandings which apparently have existed among growers' minds as to what happened to the money the association received for the 1920 prunes.

The charge has occasionally been made that grower members of the association have been unable to obtain a complete financial accounting of what became of all the money the association received for the fruit. It is sold. The financial statement, which has been prepared by McLaren, Goode & Co. of San Francisco, is now available and is a sworn statement on which this article is based.

ON CASH DISCOUNTS.

"Let us start with the definite fact that the association was paid a gross sum of $1,457,146.16 from all sales of the 1920 prune crop. In this sum are included three distinct items which must be deducted to reach the sum to be paid the growers by the association.

"First comes the established charge made by food brokers for selling the fruit and the cash discount which is given for many years' standing is given for payment made within ten days. These two items are called cash discount and brokerage.

"Next comes the cash discount of one per cent for payment within ten days is not only a trade custom, but embodied in all contracts of the Dried Fruit Association and National Wholesale Grocers' Association. This custom has been in use in practically every line of business for years.

"The item of brokerage is the regular custom in selling, not only all dried fruit, but canned goods, beans, rice, etc. Brokerage is paid only on sales made. These two items are not and never will be possible of distribution as gross returns.

"These two charges are regular trade charges and are figured in our quotations to the trade.

"In the financial statement these items are listed as discount and brokerage and amount to a total of $613,314.71. Subtracting this sum from the $1,457,146.16 which the association received for the fruit leaves $843,831.45.

"Next come the cash charges which are paid by the trade and which are added by the association to the price of the prunes when it quotes a price to a buyer.

AS TO TRADE CHARGES.

"The two main charges included in this item are freight and boxing and are added to the price of the fruit in this class are listed in the financial statement and amount to $2,241,696.82, which, subtracted from the $843,831.45 which the association received for the fruit, leaves $622,134.63.

"Understand, none of the charges in the above items is selling expenses paid for by the growers. The first is a set charge established by trade custom and the second covers charges added to the price of the prunes by the association and paid for by the buyers.

"Now must be deducted certain costs properly attributable to the grower, such as interest on money, handling, grading, blending, storage, insurance, taxes and advertising of their fruit. All these and various other charges listed in the financial statement are shown as a deduction from the $622,134.63. This must be added $112,068.07 expense on repudiated sales which will be returned to the association if the lawsuits now pending against the contract sellers are decided in favor of the association. The total charged to the growers under the listings is thus brought up to $841,476.73. Subtracting this from the $1,457,146.16 leaves a total of $615,669.43 to be paid to the growers.

COSTS PER CENT.

"Figuring on a basis of $12,012,134.63, the actual gross returns and actual costs of $841,476.73, our costs would be seven per cent. As a matter of fact, however, the items of $112,068.07 is not legitimately looked upon as an expense. We have still pending over $750,000 in lawsuits on the 1920 sales from which this item should then be deducted, as we have every reason to believe that the return of $112,068.07 on this item, if it should be, would be figuring the total expense of marketing the crop, our cost would not figure over six per cent.

EXAMPLES TO HELP.

"In the first place, the growers have been frequently told that a great part of last year's business was done on consignment. On these consignments we have to pack the goods, ship them east, pay the freight on them, pay the warehouse charges and insurance charges until they are sold. These charges were all added to the price that the buyer paid and were not borne by the growers. Nevertheless, our gross return of $1,457,146.16 on the 1920 crop include all these amounts.

"In other words, John Jones in Kansas City buys 200 boxes of prunes of consigned stocks. He pays us our F. O. B. coast price, plus boxing and warehouse charges and all other expenses. But the amount he pays us shows on our books as the sum of all these as paid for the goods, each item then being distributed to the various accounts, such as freight, insurance, boxing charges, etc.

"Further than this, all export shipments are sold laid down at destination. We quote C. I. F. Liverpool, which means adding all costs of boxing, insurance, freight, etc., to our price. As these items are paid the total amount shows on our books, being then distributed to each separate item chargeable.

INCLUDES ALL EXPENSE.

"From time to time various rumors, hearsay and vague reports have been circulated that office expense and overhead were reaching an exorbitant figure. The detailed statement of office expenses and overhead is found in the financial report on which the association by McLaren Goode & Co.

"The office expenses and salaries included in this statement include all salaries from that paid the general manager down to the lowest one on the list. It includes every cent paid to every officer, director, trustee or office employee of the association. It includes all of the expense of the organization department and covers all costs connected with the treasury, treasury department and the work of signing up new members, keeping an accurate and up to date statistical report on acreage, ownership and transference, making crop surveys and compiling all office records.

"The entire sum paid for all office overhead and salaries, both of executive and clerical departments, amounts to only $286,911.58. The actual office expense and salaries included in this statement are $286,911.58, as detailed in the statement, $54,626.93, bringing all overhead, salaries and general expense, up to $341,538.51.

"Total office salaries and expenses of $341,538.51 figured on a total sale of prunes and apples for the same period of $11,347,312.14 therefore amounts to only 1.37 per cent and total expense figured on the above sales to only 3.09 per cent, remarkably low percentages.

"The statement at hand in this article, coupled with the explanatory material contained in this article, holds a wealth of information for the growers if they will approach the reading and study the tables with an open mind and a real desire to obtain truthful information and to understand how the money received for 1920 prunes was distributed."

BOYS GUESTS OF ROTARY CLUB AT WEEKLY SESSION

Speaker Raps Jazz, Says Courage Best Exemplified by Roosevelt.

Boys' Day was celebrated by the Oakland Rotary Club yesterday and practically every member brought a boy as a guest to the club luncheon meeting at the Hotel Oakland. There were more than 200 boys present.

The meeting was presided over by George W. Marwedel, who is head of the boys' work division of the club. He welcomed the boys to the meeting on behalf of the organization. He said in part: "We welcome you here and want you to feel that we, as men of the Rotary Club, appreciate the importance of you boys to the community."

Max Horwinski, former president of the club, in order to make the boys and men get better acquainted, asked all the "little fellows" by the name of "Bill" to stand up, after which he ordered all the "big Bills" to stand up. He then told the "little Bills" and the "big Bills" to stand up. He repeated the same process for the Jims and Eds and others until he ran out of names.

Jerome Schaffer, the principal speaker, dwelt on the ideas of birthdays, common sense, jazz and courage. He expressed the belief that if Lincoln were alive today he would be a leading Rotarian.

"If we were living today, he would be disgusted with jazz," the speaker continued. "Today this country is jazz mad. I just read that the University, in order to raise some money, had finally resorted to a 'jazz dance'."

In emphasizing the importance of courage, the speaker touched upon that quality as expressed in the life and ideas of Roosevelt.

Another feature of the program was a demonstration by members of Troop 2 of the Boy Scouts.

THE GENOA CONFERENCE.

After a month's effort to force the French government to adopt its view regarding relations with Soviet Russia the British government has asked Italy to postpone the date of convening the Genoa economic conference for three weeks. France still retains independence of views and reserves complete freedom of action regarding dealing with the Moscow regime when her delegates reach Genoa.

Apparently waiting to ascertain the exact attitude France will assume, the administration at Washington has so far made no definite announcement as to whether or not the invitation to be represented at the European economic conference will be accepted. It is generally believed at the national capital that unless the French government indicates that it will accord reasonable cooperation in carrying out the decisions of the Genoa conference this government will not attend.

Great Britain appears to be somewhat disturbed at the prospect of American abstention. France continues to command admiration for her refusal to yield to all the pressing overtures that have been made to draw her into relations with the Soviets—not only from Moscow but from official Britain as well. And France has countered with a proposition which British officials apparently are fearful of accepting. It is that the "Little Entente" be invited to participate in the Genoa conference. This refers to the Yugoslav confederation, to Czechoslovakia, Rumania and Poland. Great Britain thinks only the principal Allied countries should talk to the Communist leaders.

As to American representation at the conference, there is no obviously strong reason against it, so long as the program of discussions includes economic matters only. This country is greatly interested in the European economic situation, for on it depends the ability of Europe to consume and produce commodities of trade and thus to pay her debts to this country.

The danger to this country, if there be danger, is that the conference will not limit its agenda to economic matters, but will introduce political questions. And despite the most careful efforts that may be made to avoid political questions the conference, if the Moscow government participates, must have a political significance the consequence of which cannot now be seen.

But no doubt the importance of Russian Communist participation is overrated by Poland and the peoples comprising the "Little Entente." The Poles and Slavs of Central Europe and the Balkans fear that if Lenin and Trotsky are admitted to the Genoa conference it will be quickly followed by recognition of the Communist government at Moscow.

Perhaps this fear has some justification. But if Lenin or his representatives go to Genoa they must perforce leave the Communist child at home. The simple act of seeking admittance to the economic conference, as it is to be constituted, breaks all the rules of proper diet for a Communist state baby; to enter into any of the agreements which may be proposed at Genoa, and which of necessity must be an expression of "capitalistic" economic principles and rules, is to incontinentally disown Communism altogether. Lenin will be on the defensive and asking favors. He will be in no position to demand recognition of the Soviet government.

However, the introduction of this question inevitably raises a political issue of world-wide importance. And it is this political aspect that this country, as well as France, should be careful to avoid becoming entangled in. The danger might be eliminated by a definite understanding in advance that the powers represented will not accord recognition to the Russian Communists.

The American Relief Commission which is now providing food for a part of the starving millions of Russia serves notice that it will end its work on September 1st. On this date the year's harvests will be available. Russia is notified now that she must industriously work this spring and summer to accumulate a food supply sufficient for next winter. Communist idleness would best come to an end.

GRAVE REVELATIONS.

In the series of articles exposing conditions in the zone of Japanese military occupation in Vladivostok, sent out of Siberia by Mr. Frederick McCormick, special correspondent of THE TRIBUNE and published exclusively in this newspaper, there are revealed several incidents of which both the Japanese and the American government must take cognizance.

The first and most important is, of course, the policy of intrigue and terrorism against American citizens by the Japanese commander-in-chief, Major General Tachibana. Documents which THE TRIBUNE has printed and copies of which are in possession of the government at Washington, constitute indisputable evidence of General Tachibana's culpability in this respect. His hatching of two plots against Major Clarke of the Stevens' Railway commission, interference with plans to permit the wireless station at Vladivostok being placed in American control, the plot of scandal and corruption against sailors of an American merchant ship, and the frame-up against four other Americans in Siberia, to say nothing of the murderous attack by Tachibana's hirelings on Mr. McCormick at Pograditza, are acts which should not pass without the most serious official notice.

Major General Tachibana, and the policy he has pursued enforced by any other military commander in Siberia, is a grave menace to friendly relations between the two governments. If that policy is permitted to continue the United States must be content with seeing its citizens excluded from every legitimate activity on the Pacific Coast of Russian territory. This country should not permit such a policy to run against its citizens.

Then after the Japanese part in these episodes given to the world first by THE TRIBUNE's representative, attention must be paid to two American official representatives at Vladivostok.

It is shown by documentary evidence, including the formal report of the consul to Washington, that American Consul D. B. Macgowan entered into an agreement with the Russian Pri-Amur government at Vladivostok, which is a creature of the Japanese military authority, to permit unchallenged the arrest and search of Major Clarke. He further agreed not to notify Major Clarke of the terroristic plot against him, and when Major Clarke was arrested and brought into Vladivostok at two o'clock the American consul attended the final scene of the outrage, perpetrated against a background of the American flag.

After this outrage had been completed, and he had discovered that Tachibana was seeking authority from Tokyo for a second attempt against him, and finding himself isolated from all normal facilities of communication with his governments, Major Clarke wrote a report and asked Captain L. C. Richardson, U. S. N., commander of the United States Cruiser Albany, to transmit it by the secret code of the Navy. Captain Richardson the same day called on the victim of treachery and burned up this report before Major Clarke's eyes, informing him that no report would be forwarded.

It would seem that the State Department in the first instance and the Navy Department in the second instance are faced with the necessity of taking appropriate disciplinary action against their respective agents at Vladivostok.

Now a committee of Congress is to make a junketing trip to Muscle Shoals to investigate the project which Mr. Ford has obligingly offered to take off the hands of the government. It will be recalled that we said some time ago it would profit Mr. Ford little to be impatient, that his patience was apt to be tried beyond endurance when his proposal got before Congress.

A food specialist in Chicago claims that a vitamin diet will grow glossy hair on a pig. This is not encouraging for the bristle industry and furthermore what is more desired is means to make a pig grow and fatten more quickly.

WHY IT SUCCEEDED.

Why is it that a conference could be held in Washington in 1921-22 and accomplish that which mankind had never before been able to accomplish by any method? The answer is contained in President Harding's address.

The chief reason why success has been attained is that the conference was rightly conceived and planned. But success is also attributable to the timeliness of the Conference, at a season neither too close to war nor too remote from its horrors. The peoples and their governments still feel the sting of war and are laboring under its burdens. They are ready, therefore, to make sacrifices for peace which they might not have been willing to make at other times. The principal reason why success resulted from the Washington Conference is found in the plan and scope of the Conference. It differed from other conferences in many respects. These differences afford a clue to the secret of success. In the first place, the Conference was limited to numbers. The only nations attending were those which were directly concerned. The program was strictly limited, and the objects aimed at were specified with all possible distinctness. The nations concerned knew in advance exactly what they would be expected to consider, and exactly where their interests would be affected.

More than all these, the fundamental element of success was the plan of equality and unanimity. Without equality unanimity would have been a farce, as it was at Paris, and without unanimity equality would have been denied. The powers, great and minor, acted, deliberated and voted as equal sovereigns, and there was no coercion, except that of world public opinion. This opinion was sought and obtained—another vital difference between this Conference and others. Indeed, it is the opinion of some observers that the operation of world opinion was the chief distinction of the Conference and the principal factor in making it a success.—Washington Post.

A Fiery Animal. (From Echo News.)

Hawley J. Bean had the misfortune to lose by the ranch horse which was on the place he purchased a few weeks ago from A. W. Rugg. The blaze originated from a faulty fuse and as no neighbors live within three-quarters of a mile, the blaze got the best of those fighting it.

Speaking of Spinekvintz and others, there is a poem in The Spinks in Don Marquis' latest book "Poems and Portraits" (Doubleday, Page Co.). It is called a savage portrait and if it be one of our own Spink, we tremble for this man Marquis.

Dear Mrs. Spink has had so very many Doctors! . . . a fact of which her lord seems very proud. I've heard him urging in a jolly crowd:

"Tell them all about that last big tumor, Jenny!"

And Jenny lisps and tells, and spares us any Details. . . . she tells us All! And listen while Spink murmurs half aloud:

"Her stomach has cost me a pretty penny!"

And after dinner, with the coffee cup, The Spinks perform a friendly fire-side clinic

And she glows as her husband cuts her up And his the zest of any surgeon-cynic. . . .

It is probably too late to be of value to any who might have profited by the information, but we have just learned that months ago a sort of jiffy bob was placed on the market, the same being a decoratively fringed fringe of hair which was designed to be bound about the back of the head, thus giving—so it was alleged—all the jaunty dash of bobbed hair without the necessity of cutting off the wearer's own locks. For applying this quick-action pseudo-bob all that was necessary was to tie the hair low and then attach the jiffy bob with combs or invisible pins, the frizzes bubbling out over the ears and up over the line of junction in amazingly deceptive fashion. Of course, we might be fooled, but we doubt if we have met one of these in actual operation. Still this bloodless surgery idea of bobbed hair was a noble thought.—Falo Alto Times.

JUST FOLKS

By EDGAR A. GUEST

THE LECTURER.

I met a sad and gloomy man upon the train one day. His face was long and solemn and his hair was turning gray.

His eyes were dim and sunken and a pallor lined his cheek. He was the sorriest spectacle I'd seen in many a week.

"Good day," said I, "what weight of woe is preying on your mind?" "I'm merely thinking," he replied, "of the home I left behind."

"I have a fine and happy home, a lovely place to be. Now look at what the tempter's voice has up and done to me. He promised me a Pullman car and rooms in fine hotels.

He said I should be feted by the leading city belles. He said the jumps were easy ones and pleasant trips to make."

At 5 a. m. I quit my bed this blooming train to take!

"They routed me from Spouters Vale to dear old Oskaloosa. From Squedunk Point to Hokem Lake I rode in the caboose; I walked the station platform until 2 a. m. to meet."

The only train to get me to the next place on the sheet. And when at last I hit the town and wished to go to bed, "Ain't got no room," the yawning, red-haired surly room clerk said."

"You say you have a happy home, and yet you wander far. I take it then," I answered him, "a traveling man you are?"

He sadly shook his weary head: "Oh no," he answered me, "The 'glorious,' happy, mud-applauded lecture game's my trade. But hear me now, if I survive the hazards of this trip."

And get back home alive and sound, I'll throw away my grip." (Copyright, 1921, by Edgar A. Guest.)

THE FARMER'S TROUBLE.

The trouble with the farmers is that, unorganized, they have to meet organization. Their principal crops are not sold directly to the consumers, who are more numerous than the farmers themselves, but to manufacturers and middlemen who, few in numbers in comparison with the farmers, are able to combine and fix the prices of agricultural products. If buyers were in as complete competition as sellers, the price would be fixed by the law of supply and demand and the farmer would be able to get his share of the value of his products.

Another trouble that the farmer faces is the fact that big buyers of agricultural products depend on markets that are big enough to fill all orders at all times. The result is that sections that produce a limited amount of a crop must sell to the big dealers in the big cities far from the point of production and bringing up one's own flesh and blood? That it can be done without interfering in any way with one's success in business, this man has convincingly demonstrated.—Forbes Magazine.

about YOUR HEALTH

The Reason "Old Folks" Ought to Watch Their Diet.

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D., Commissioner of Health, New York City.

When a farmer knows what elements are lacking in the soil he tills, when he knows what time of the year to spray his apple trees, and what mixture to use for the purpose, then he is in the way to get better results than his less informed neighbor can achieve. When you know what kinds of food your body requires and what quantities to eat, your chance of long life is increased.

During this week I have tried to give you some elementary facts about food. I told you that fat furnishes heat, and the carbohydrates furnish energy. These two forms of food supply the power to run the human engine. The machine itself, consisting of the framework, the muscles and the other tissues of the body, is built up of protein.

The food history was described and its proper employment was indicated. Its use permits you to select your food, and thus to "balance" your ration, in this way guaranteeing the right amount of fat, carbohydrates and protein.

I told you about the "soul of food," the vitamins, and made it clear to you, I trust, that the growth and the welfare of your body depend on eating foods rich in vitamins.

I warned you to choose your food according to your age and work requirements, and, particularly, to avoid such foods as disagree with you.

Age has its special demands as regards food. As we progress in life the liver and kidneys do not function as they did in early years. The heart is not so dependable, and the blood vessels have become stiffer or less brittle. For these reasons, food excesses should be avoided.

Gluttony at any age is bad enough, but in old age it is a positive menace to life. A boy of 9 can eat a lemon pie and slip off to bed for dreamless sleep. Let an old man do the same thing, and before morning two doctors and a nurse will be working over him.

The food needs of old folks are much less than the requirements of the growing and hard-working periods of life. Simplicity in eating—the rejection of rich and stimulating food—will improve health and prolong life. When you have once established a daily program, making for comfort and good health, stick to it.

And I must agree that there's more to the vital subject of foods than we have been able to consider in this series of articles of which this is the last. But our purpose has been achieved if we now possess the groundwork of a better understanding of our food needs. And from time to time we'll discuss this most important subject in other articles which will help us to live better and happier and perhaps even more successful lives.

What are most worthwhile things in life? Surely, among them must be classed one's children. Neglect of their growing children by tremendous busy men is notorious. While talking the other day with a man who has come to the front extraordinarily in recent years he remarked to me: "I always take my holidays when my boys gets his school holidays. I take off a week or ten days around Christmas and also at Easter. Then I always take my summer vacation when he is having his holidays, and spend most of the time in his company. I enjoy it and I rather think he enjoys it. We're the very best of pals."

Auerbach May Be New City Engineer

Shakeup Predicted by Politicians Since Decision in Whitehead Case.

That George Mattis, present city engineer and ex-officio superintendent of streets, may be removed from his office and replaced by Mel Auerbach, city deputy, is being rumored in the street department at the city hall.

Mattis was appointed by the old administration and is one of the few holdovers now in the department. Auerbach has frequently said that he would not take the position because of placing his civil service standing in jeopardy.

The recent decision of the district court of appeals on the Elliott Whitehead case settles this question of jeopardy and political wiseacres hold that the change will be made pretty soon.

Proposed Garbage Dump Protested

BERKELEY, Feb. 17.—Characterizing the proposed garbage dump at the foot of the municipal wharf as a menace to health, the West Berkeley Improvement Club today sent a letter to the city council protesting against the municipal plan for the disposal of garbage. The club, of which Charles Robertson is president, protests the closing of Berkeley's $75,000 incinerator for the "purpose of experimentation" in other ways.

Other objections to the use of the wharf for garbage purposes are noted by the club, including the fact, it declares, that fishing will be stopped on the Berkeley waterfront and that Berkeley's municipal wharf will be practically confiscated.

BERKELEY, Feb. 17.—Wedding bells which were to have rung at last week for Miss Christine Vaca, 2017 Virginia street, and Albert Parker, 812 Delaware street, will not be heard until the former recovers from injuries sustained in an automobile accident in Oakland. The crash which sent Miss Vaca to a hospital occurred as the couple were on their way to obtain a marriage license. Miss Vaca was severely cut about the face and it will be several days yet before she is able to leave her bed.

11TH STREET IS CLOSED BY CITY COUNCIL

Decision Allows Cannery to Take in a Block of Street; Strong Protest Voiced by Property Owners in District

East Eleventh street will be forever closed for one block to allow the Prince Canning Company to expand.

This was decided this morning by the city council at the end of a series of heated discussions, with attorneys and East Oakland citizens massing in the council chamber to fight it out. The H. C. Prince company, in return for this stretch of street between Twenty-eighth and Twenty-ninth avenues, agreed to pave and improve East Ninth and Tenth for the same distance. The protesters, headed by Attorneys A. P. Stiefvater and A. Q. Lombardi, were residents in the neighborhood, who protested at the inconvenience to be caused by closing the street.

Commissioner Bacus recently described the matter as a case of "making some folks walk a block or losing a cannery for Oakland." The protesters, on the other hand, asserted that never before has an improved public street been given over to a private corporation.

"WILL LEAVE BAD TASTE," "Gentlemen, it will leave a bad taste in your mouths," said Stiefvater today.

"If there is anything which would make me vote against you," said Mayor Davis, "it would be such an allegation."

Attorney Charles Beardsley, for the cannery company, said that the majority of residents on Eleventh street favor the expansion of the cannery.

When the matter came to final vote, only Commissioner Edwards opposed the ordinance. The Prince Canning Company will take over the street.

ORDINANCE REPEALED

The city council, at the request of City Treasurer H. J. Anderson, repealed the ordinance which allows street contractors to give liberty bonds in lieu of cash as security for the proper completion of street work. Anderson says that the new plan did not work. He says it means loss of interest to the city and much detailed work.

By request of the city planning commission, the council directed the city engineer to prepare proceedings for the opening of Jefferson street from Seventeenth to San Pablo avenue. The city planning commission also approved the widening of East Fourteenth from Fifty-fourth to Eighty-third avenue.

HOOVER'S SON ADVISES NEW RADIO RULES

Regulation of Wave Lengths Proposed to Accomplish Control of Air; Runs Big Plant With Stanford Pals

For some time Herbert Hoover, secretary of commerce, has been seeking suggestions on possible methods of control of the air for radio purposes.

Meanwhile his son, Herbert Hoover Jr., a freshman at the University of Stanford, has worked out a practical plan, according to radio experts.

Young Hoover has been deeply interested in the subject since his matriculation at the university, and operates a large radio outfit himself. Recently he pooled his plant with those of F. E. Terman and J. F. Franklin, other Stanford students, and the three of them secured an experimenter's license.

"I have always been interested in electricity," said Hoover today, "and like to use the wireless for experimental purposes. In order to get theoretical knowledge of the work we make all our own apparatus." As a result we have a plant that cost us only $300. Had we bought the material it would have cost us in excess of $1000."

CONTROL REGULATIONS

In regard to the control of the air, young Hoover believes it could be accomplished by regulating the different wave lengths which are permitted to operators.

"There is no sufficient graduation among the different classes," Hoover said. "Instead of allowing a wave length of 200 meters to all amateurs, it should be divided into three classes. Beginners should be granted 150 meters, so that they could not interfere with the operations of other senders. Amateurs who are a little further advanced should be granted an additional twenty-five meters, while only the experienced amateur should get the present allotment of 200 meters."

The young operator would also assign different wave lengths to the experimental stations, the wireless phones and the special stations. These are now lumped together with 375 meters. He proposes from 250 to 300 meters for experimental stations and from 400 to 450 for the wireless phones. The wireless outfit on ships, now set at 300 and 600, he would fix at 500 and 600.

PREVENT INTERFERENCE

According to Hoover the changes he proposes would not affect the distance operators as any of the classes could send it, but it would prevent the interference which is causing so much discussion.

Hoover and his associates are expecting several high-power vacuum tubes from England which will give them one of the most powerful wireless telephone sets on the Pacific Coast, enabling them to send as far as the Atlantic Coast with their telegraphy set. Hoover's experimenter's license "6XH" has not yet been listed.

The son of the secretary of commerce is also interested in athletics, having recently received his class numerals as a member of the freshman soccer team. He learned the game while attending school in England. Hoover resides in Sequoia Hall, one of the men's dormitories, where also live Bill Irwin, son of Will Irwin, the writer, and the two sons of President Ray Lyman Wilbur, the head of the university.

ARMS PARLEY REVIEWED BY WOMAN AIDE

Mrs. Katherine Phillips Edson, Member of Harding Advisory Board, Says Restrained Selfishness Rule

"If America would lead other countries of the world in democracy it is her business to protect America first," Mrs. Katherine Phillips Edson told delegates to the first annual convention of the Alameda County Federation of Women's Clubs' meeting in the Fruitvale Congregational church. Mrs. Edson was one of the four women present during the conference on limitation of armaments in Washington, D. C., as a member of the President's advisory council.

"We hear much about internationalism and international thinking," the speaker said. "Personally I saw no evidence of such thinking upon the part of the delegates. Everybody was thinking of themselves and trying to grab all they could get. The result of the conference was obtained because every nation was burning up with debt."

AVOID RESOLUTIONS

"In the charge of America is the great gift of democracy. If we make ourselves weak we will fail. All in democracy is rot. If we would lead it is our business to protect our own interests first. When we pass resolutions against the use of poison gas let us keep the reservation in our minds that we do not want any interference with the federal department of chemical research."

"The one thing women must learn is to be careful what they pass resolutions about," Mrs. Edson declared. "Organizations are easily made the agents of propaganda."

Mrs. Edson reviewed the outstanding events and personnel of the disarmament conference.

Mrs. George A. Rigg, president of Alameda district, C. F. W. C.; Dr. Mariana Bertola, president of San Francisco district, C. F. W. C.; Claude Leach, past district executive, made short addresses at the afternoon session.

ONE-MINUTE SPEAKERS

One-minute speakers were introduced as follows: Mrs. Frank G. Law, president California League of Women Voters; Mrs. M. Murray, president California War Mothers; Mrs. J. W. Bingham, president Alameda County Mills Club; Mrs. Edgar L. Ormsby, Oakland Board of Education; Mrs. E. A. Vandeventer, Miss Mellick, Miss Edna B. Kinard and Mrs. Henry Wetherbee.

A program of interpretative dance, and song opened the session. Miss Naomi Allee, Mrs. Fred Kaiser and Mrs. Nadine Hilton Graft participated.

Mrs. L. R. Rosenberg, Hill and Valley Club, Hayward, was re-elected president of the county federation. Other officers are vice-presidents, Mrs. H. A. Stout, Glenview Club, Oakland; Mrs. Ernest S. Page, Twentieth Century Club, Berkeley; treasurer, Mrs. F. V. Jones, Country Club of Washington township. Fruitvale Women's Club was hostess to the convention.

Benefit Performance for Jobless Wins Wide Support

That the theatrical benefit for the unemployed to be given by the theater men at the Auditorium on February 29 will be an unqualified success is predicted by the sale of seats.

The tickets are being offered for sale at the various business houses and also at the Sherman & Clay box office and indications are that the two performances will draw capacity houses.

The program will include amateur talent, feature pictures and professional acts provided by the various local amusement houses.

Meanwhile plans are being formulated by the citizens' emergency employment and relief committee for the "one per cent drive" which is to be conducted by J. Cal Ewing for the unemployed.

Ewing will endeavor to collect from each worker in the city one per cent of his or her salary for a period of eight weeks. The employers and higher paid employees will be asked to contribute larger sums.

Yesterday the fund of the committee was enriched by the largest donation yet made by a church. Harry Hollidge, chairman of the unemployment committee of the First Methodist church, turned in a check for $512.92 representing collections made by the Epworth league.

The fund was secured from a canvass of the church by Hollidge and a committee comprising R. C. Proffitt, Ruth Smith and Miss Cedora Cheney. On Friday night, February 26, a benefit dance will be given in the ballroom of the Municipal Auditorium for the benefit of unemployed boiler-makers and shipbuilders. M. Gabbett is chairman of the committee of arrangements.

The work which will take several days consists of grading off the rock, which has been dumped copiously around the lake and now stands in piles. The face of the wall will be shaped and brought up to grade, finishing one of the items of the construction of the new Lakeside boulevard out from Harrison street to the Tenth street dam.

Men are also working from the woodyard on the city streets and the municipal golf links. The number of registrants is now about 1700.

Absolutely Bored by the Whole Thing

A youth in Southeastern Missouri became involved in legal proceedings as the result of the mysterious disappearance of a neighbor's mare and the upshot was that a jury went so far as to find him guilty of horse-stealing and the judge gave him a sentence of five years at hard labor. A friend of mine defended him at his trial.

Some months after his late client had been taken away to begin serving his sentence, this friend was sitting one morning in his office when the door opened and there entered the father of the youth, an elderly bearded hill-man.

"Hal," began the newcomer, "I come to see you to get you to do something 'bout my boy Wesley, Junior."

"Well, Uncle Wes," said the lawyer, "I don't believe there is anything I can do. You remember how hard I worked for him at the jail—how I sweated down two or three collars over goulder in that courthouse and how I wasted all the oratory I had in my system and how I snapped both my suspenders, but in spite of all I could say, you know as well as I do what happened. The case went against us and the judge gave Wesley five years in the State penitentiary and there he is!"

"Yas, sah, Hal," said the father, "Wesley, Junior, is up that in that there penitentiary and that's jest the pint." I got a letter from him this mawnin'. And he told me to come to see you and to tell you to get him out of that place right-a-way—he's plum' dissatisfied."

THE WIRELESS AGE

Wireless apparatuses are being installed in the homes of our best people. Services are being organized to send out concerts, weather reports, market quotations, news bulletins and such things at stated periods to all subscribers.

If you want a market report you cut in and they tell you if the market is a bear or only bull. And now the latest service is the bedtime story for children.

At 7 o'clock you key it up to your wave length, clamp a set of receivers on little Alexander's ears and go out to a movie while they wireless him to sleep with the story of the tree bears, punctuated by beautiful bear noises every time the apparatus gets out of service or throws a mean static.

The possibilities of the wireless can hardly be imagined. The newly-wed wife who wishes to learn how long it takes to boil an egg before it's soft, listens to the reports sent via wireless from some authorized cooking school; or if she wishes to make a dress she merely sets the wave-length and Poirer tells her by wireless from Paris just how to do it.

Perhaps she wishes to reduce. She sets the lever and from the wireless comes the touching appeal: "Up down, up down, faster, faster, hold up your chin. Stick out your chest. Kick up your legs a little higher. One—two—three—KICK." It is a beautiful thought. Nobody will have to know anything any more. Somebody asks you a question. You connect up with the proper bureau sending out information ceaselessly and immediately you have the correct answer.

There will be no more books. Authors will tell their stories by wireless. There will be no more magazines, for you won't have to wait until the next month to see whether she did or she didn't. And there will be no more newspapers because you will get news bulletins instantaneously and continuously.

Of course you will miss this feature by me, but I can't help that. I am going to do the best I can by you until then. But as much as I wish to make you happy, I will do nothing to stop the march of progress. No, sir! If the wireless age is coming, let it come. That's the way I feel about it.

Why Libby's Milk is thick—
like cream

Libby's Milk is cows' milk with absolutely nothing added, but it's thicker than ordinary milk—and rich like cream—because more than half of the moisture is removed by evaporation.

Milk, as cows give it, is largely water. This illustration shows why Libby's Milk is double-rich and thick like cream; it's cows' milk with more than half the water taken out.

Put Libby's Milk on your next grocery order. Use it for all milk and cream purposes—it is pure; convenient; economical and safe.

REFINERIES TO CLOSE.

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 17.—(By the Associated Press.)—The Standard Oil company has definitely suspended all work at its refineries near Tampico, and workmen numbering upwards of a thousand will be discharged immediately, according to advices from Tampico. Only the pumps workers will be retained. It was added.

A special train exhibiting products of France is touring Canada this fall.

U. S. CONSUL SHIFTED.

MEXICALI, Lower Calif., Feb. 17.—Walter F. Boyle, for several years American consul here, has been transferred to San Luis Potosi, the capital of the Mexican state of that name, and expects to leave for his new post about April 1. Before coming to Mexicali he filled a similar position in Honduras. He will be succeeded here by Henry C. Van Strove, now American consul at Atlix, Cuba. It is announced.

WOMEN LOSE FOREST JOBS.

EUGENE, Ore., Feb. 17.—No woman will be employed as forest lookout in the Pacific Northwest this year, according to an announcement received here yesterday from the district forester's office. The lack of employment among men is the reason given for excluding women from the service this year.

SLAYER HANGED.

BALTIMORE, Md., Feb. 17.—John Davis, alias Hoffman, slayer of his sweetheart and the latter's grandmother last August, was hanged at the city jail today, the most unconcerned man who has paid the death penalty there for many years, jail officials said.

"Crispy an' crunchy an' all-the-time-crackly! An' never tough or leathery! Gee, what would happen if Kellogg's corn flakes were all eaten up before tomorrow?"

You certainly realize the difference in Corn Flakes when you eat Kellogg's

From the instant you open the generous sized package till they're tucked away in great and tiny "bread-baskets" Kellogg's Corn Flakes are a delight! You can't even look at those big sunny-brown flakes, all joyously flavored, crisp and crunchy, without getting hungry! Kellogg's are never leathery or tough or hard to eat—they're just wonderful!

Such a spread for big and little boys and girls—the sweetheart of fine white corn kernels deliciously flavored and deliciously toasted in Kellogg's own way! You can't imagine anything more joyous to eat at any hour.

Kellogg's Corn Flakes are childhood's ideal food! Kiddies can eat as much as they can carry! Every mouthful makes for health, for sleepy-time-stomachs!

Don't just ask for "corn flakes"! You say KELLOGG'S—the original kind in the RED and GREEN package!

A secret of cooking that Colonial housewives knew

THE wives of early Colonial settlers found that maple syrup—unlike anything they had ever known—gave a new and delightful flavor, as well as sweetness, to their pies and puddings. Indeed the secret of many of their famed dishes was—the maple taste.

And now Log Cabin Syrup makes it possible for you to get this wonderful flavor in your cooking—at any time of year, with economy.

It gives sweetness
—and exquisite flavor

Log Cabin is made from the choicest of New England maple combined with the best from Canadian groves—the real sugars of maple in which the flavor is most intense. This is blended with just enough pure sugar of cane—and nothing else—to make Log Cabin Syrup surpassingly sweet and most delicate in maple flavor.

When you use Log Cabin for the sweetening, your old dessert recipes take on a new goodness. For custards, puddings, pies and ice-creams, it gives that "different" taste which everyone likes.

It makes such luscious cake-frostings, such toothsome candies. Sweeten your morning's grapefruit with Log Cabin. And, of course, you'll use it on pancakes and French toast.

Get a can of Log Cabin Syrup at your grocer's today and see how the old Colonial secret of cooking will lend new delight to the foods you serve. Log Cabin Syrup comes only in log-cabin-shaped cans. There are three sizes. The Log Cabin Products Company, St. Paul, Minn.

ARMY DEFENSE OF PHILIPPINES MAY BE REDUCED

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—(By the Associated Press.)—Military defense of the Philippines may be completely abandoned by the United States even before ratification of the four-power Pacific treaty.

The step is known to be under consideration by the war department. If it is carried out, it would mean pressure for further reduction of the strength of the army the garrison which has been maintained in the islands for defensive purposes ever since the first American troops landed under Dewey's guns in 1898 will be cut to no more than a police force to constitute authority of the insular government.

Should this policy be adopted it will be based on the contention that the treaty guarantees the security of the islands from attack by any signatory power and that they should be left to the protection of international good faith. As an evidence of its own complete good faith such action by the United States, it was said, would have striking emphasis. The possibility of aggression against the islands by any non-signatory power is regarded as remote as not to deserve consideration.

Withdrawal of a substantial part of the island garrison of about 7500 men would increase the number of mobile troops available in the United States.

Grand Secretary Gives Lodge's Purpose

ALAMEDA, Feb. 17.—John S. Parry, grand secretary of the Fraternal Order of Eagles, was the principal speaker last night at the initiation of a large class of candidates at the Eagles' clubhouse at Alameda avenue and Park street.

Parry spoke on the origin of the order, the work it has accomplished for its members and the community at large and its plans for the future. He said that the Eagles originated in Seattle in 1898, for "companionship and mutual helpfulness."

"There were twelve men in the original lodge and its membership now has reached nearly half a million," said Parry. "The reason for this remarkable growth is to be found in the constitution, the purposes and the accomplishments of the order. Its fundamental principles are Liberty, Truth, Justice and Equality."

"The purpose of the Eagles involves a two-fold relation—to the fellow members and to the community and state. When an Eagle becomes ill he is taken care of by the order, and if death ensues he is decently interred. An Eagle sleeps in Potter's Field."

"From the date of its inception to June 30 of last year the Eagles have expended for sick, funeral and medical benefits and services $24,567,000. That the fraternity is sound financially and will be able to meet all obligations is assured by the fact that its present net cash assets are more than $10,000,000."

On the whole, the Eagles are interested in a fair deal all around—to capital and labor, and particularly to the great American people, to the end that better conditions be provided, under which the bulk of our men, women and children live and labor."

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Feb. 17.—Tryouts are being held here this week among the Stanford women to obtain the cast for the pageant that is to be presented by the women students in the early part of May in connection with the endowment campaign.
The manuscript for the event has been written by Miss Rosemary Drachman, prominent Stanford writer. The theme is to be conveyed in pantomime. This pageant will be the first of what is to be an annual affair, similar to the Parthenon given yearly by the women of the University of California. The dancing will be under the direction of Miss Edith Pasmore, who assisted in directing the pageant given at Berkeley last year.

Farmers of Nation Will Enter Politics
BY UNITED PRESS
LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.
CHICAGO, Feb. 17.—A national farmers' organization, built around the "farm bloc" in congress, was in process of organization here today. Relief of farmers that the only relief from present conditions is through politics caused the call of a meeting of Republican agrarian leaders of the nation. The conference was called by Benjamin C. Marsh, managing director of the Farmers' National council, who arrived today.
Leaders of the new movement said no attempt to form a new political party will be made. Farmers, however, will be formed into a unit to solidify their strength for or against congressional candidates in the next election.

Northeast in Grip Of New Cold Snap
WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—North-eastern United States was sheeted in ice today as a result of a cold snap of unusual severity, according to reports to the weather bureau whose forecasters would predict little relief before Saturday. On the other hand the northwestern sections which, normally would be enduring the coldest period of the season, were said to have comparatively high temperatures.
The coldest spots in the United States today were Canton, N. Y., Northfield, Vt., and Greenville, Me., where the thermometer shivered around 22 degrees below zero. New York City, with a temperature of flat zero, weather bureau officials said, probably was undergoing "colder weather" than cities with lower registers, because of the abnormality of such temperatures in the metropolis and a moisture-laden wind.
The cold wave was in effect today far below the Mason and Dixon line, several cities reporting record low temperatures.
Some provinces of China have 567 inhabitants per square mile.

TEDDY O'HARA WINS ALL THE WAY FROM EDDIE DIGGINS

OPENING GAME OF TRIBUNE LEAGUE CLASS A CHAMPIONSHIP WILL BE PLAYED SUNDAY

DIGGINS PROVES EASY FOR WATTS TRACT BOY IN AUDITORIUM BOUT

Charlie Lloyd Changes Mind About Sitting Down and Wins Decision From Goat Lavin.

By BOB SHAND
If Eddie Diggins was the lightweight champion four-rounder of the Pacific Coast at 10 o'clock last night, at 10:30 Teddy O'Hara of Watts Tract owned the title. Mister O'Hara gave Mr. Diggins such an artistic lacing in the main event at the auditorium that the crowd hooted enthusiastically when Judge William Virden Brackett called it a draw. Usually when O'Hara wins by a big margin the customers don't mind the other gent getting the decision, but Teddy put up such a heady battle last night and he fought so well that the cheers were all for him at the finish. Nothing like this ever happened at an O'Hara fight before, and it was long after the fight was over that Teddy was forced to believe that some of the customers actually gave him a hand. The fight was not even close. O'Hara took the lead when the boys put up their hands and the further it went the further he won. A left hook to the chin spilled Diggins for the count of two and Eddie was groggy on two other occasions. Diggins looked like a bushier last night and whoever has been trying to change the boy's style probably realized now that a mistake has been made. Diggins had no "form" in his work. He held consistently and seemed terribly sure of the O'Hara left. Diggins had evidently been coached to guard against a left hook and in learning this he forgot everything else he ever knew about the boxing game. He used a crouch that kept his chin out of the path of many a hook, but he was off balance and could not hit back effectively and when O'Hara tried to force the fight it was Diggins who rushed to cover and clung like a vine. There was no flow in O'Hara's fighting last night. He fought a good clean battle, broke from the clinches without hitting and at no time did he lose his head. In passing it might not be amiss to state that Teddy was a youngster that it does not pay to violate the rules and he has taught him a lot of other things that have tended to make the Watts Tract entry one of the most dangerous lightweights on the Coast. Nolan called up yesterday to state that Teddy was in the best condition of his career, and Pete told the truth.

Heavy-weights Provide Feature of Evening.
The big kick of the evening came in the Charlie Lloyd-Goat Lavin fight. Lloyd went in as a substitute when Art Sharkey suffered a cut eye in training, and all Charlie wanted for his trouble was the short end of the medal. Fat and out of condition, he thought he did not have a chance, so he looked around for a soft spot and invited the Goat to hit him—no too hard, but just enough to give him an opportunity of taking a seat. To make sure that the Goat would not hurt him in the process Lloyd refused to hit his little playmate, and the Goat accommodatingly slapped Charlie in the face and down went Mr. Lloyd, presumably through for the evening. Instead of getting a count Charlie got some inside information about how the medals were distributed on this side of the bay, and he was told particularly about the possibility of medals for gent's who lay down. "No fight no medal, Charlie, get in and fight and you might get a chance," and he kicked his man. It was a terrible set-back for Mister Lavin. Tony Gregory, the Sacramento featherweight, lost to Joe Lynch in the special event, but Tony put up

Shade to Get Chance Tonight At J. Britton

Veteran Welter Champ Confident He Can Win From Youngster.

By HENRY L. FAIRRELL
United Press Staff Correspondent.
NEW YORK, Feb. 17.—Every time old man Jack Britton goes into the ring, his friends wonder—is this the last?
Jack, the welterweight champion, admits that he wonders himself. Britton meets Dave Shade, San Francisco, admitted to be about the best boy under him in the class, in Madison Square Garden tonight.
The "old man" slips the word "day" a few on me; I'm still good"—to his friends. But he admits that element of chance favors his younger opponent.
"I've been on my back enough to know that you can't take a fight when the sleeper is coming over. Some of these days some under-estimator is going to get me and the title," he said.
Brian Downey nearly got me a couple of years ago in Ohio. The referee's eye was the best thing I heard and I got up groggy but Downey didn't know enough. That's a good thing. I don't know how I got out of condition and barely escaped with my life. I haven't forgotten anything.
Britton had an exciting time last year with Mickey Walker in Jersey City. He didn't take the youngster seriously, went in the ring fat and out of condition and barely escaped with his life.
Shade put Britton on his back when they boxed a ten-round draw in Portland last year. Jack Perry and others had him down but he always came up.
The champion has trained hard for this fight, not only has he figured Shade a worthy opponent but because he plans to get himself in perfect shape for Benny Leonard—a bout which seems sure to be the Garden closes for the season.

When Benny Boxed Rocky

Just before the big battle, fifteen rounds, in Madison Square Garden. (Left to right), CHALLENGER ROCKY KANSAS of Buffalo; REFEREE KID McPARTLAND (old-time lightweight boxer) and CHAMPION BENNY LEONARD. Kansas put up a stiff fight in the earlier rounds and had Benny bleeding from the nose; but the last half of the bout was "all Leonard" and the champ retained his title.

Oakland N. S., Poplars Will Tangle Sunday

First Game of Series for the Championship At P. C. L. Diamond.

With the first game of their championship series scheduled to take place next Sunday afternoon at the Oakland Coast League Park, the players of the Poplar Coast Stars, champions of the American Division, and the Oakland N. S. G. W. No. 50, champions of the National Division of the Oakland Tribune Class A League, are preparing to get out tomorrow and put in a couple of hours of practice. The series is to settle the amateur championship of Northern California and promises to be one of the keenest ever staged in the state.
While the Natives take the field Sunday they will probably do so under the leadership of Captain Rater Starasnick. For William R. Crosby, their manager, is confined to his bed with an attack of pneumonia and is expected to be out of doors for a while. The Poplars are figuring on using Phil Gardner or Carl Kamb on Sunday and from all accounts will attract one of the largest crowds to witness a series of its kind.
While the Natives and "Randy Kids" will be battling at the Coast League Park, the Hayward N. S. G. W. No. 10 and Niles Victory Motors will be settling an argument at Hayward as to who are the champions of the California Division of the Class B League.

Fans Endorse Plan to Play Home Games Here

Expressions of confidence in J. Cal Ewing and the Oakland baseball club are being heard on every side from the prominent business and industrial heads of Oakland, the downtown world echoing approval of the move that severed the old agreement and which will bring the home games of the "Oaks" to this side of the bay throughout the week when the local club is not on the road. It means continuous baseball to the fans, recognition of the quality of the Oakland club and the business man it means increased business.

Oakland is at last to step onto the baseball map and the local merchants have been prompt in their support of the movement. Daily there have been heard favorable comments on all hands and J. Cal never knew he had so many loyal backers among the local men who take an interest in the doings of the local ball club. Many have felt for some time that such a move would be for the best interests of this side of the bay but have refrained from making any suggestions for, being in business themselves, they realized that each man knows his own particular game, the best. But now that the move has been made the popular sentiment is quickly voiced and naught but favorable remarks have been made. If half as many fans flock out to the ball orchards as have commended the Oakland owners for their move, there will not be room to accommodate them when the Coast League season opens.

Y.M.C.A. Five Wins From the Dwight Quintet

Victory Practically Cinches Title of Division II for the "Y" Players.

The Oakland "Y" and Dwight club fives clashed last night at Oakland Tech. in a crippled condition, the "Y" being minus the services of one regular, while two of the Dwight men were missing from the list, and as the rules go, the team with the least crippled won, the count being 25-18. Had it not been for the lack of teamwork on the part of the "Y" due to the absence of Spencer, they should have run a score of 2 to 1 on the Berkeley team, whose line-up contained four guards and a forward. Klein, who replaced Spencer, was an individual player throughout, and of his team innumerable points.

Well, of the Dwight five was the big star, playing great ball and leading the scoring with 10. Bradburg of the "Y" was high man for his team, with 8, and played his usual consistent game, ably supported by Daniels and Brown.
The Y. C. A. five goes to Livermore tomorrow night to play the Livermore five in what should be one of the best games of the year. The "Y" team has weight on any team that has appeared here this year and Bradburg and Dahl have the speed to go with it that should force the crack Livermore aggregation to do their stuff to win. The line-ups last night:

Oakland "Y" (25)—Bradburg (8), Dahl (1), forwards; Brown (1), center; Nelson (4), Klein (2), guards; Daniels (6), forward.
Dwight (18)—Vein (10), Hamilton (4), forwards; Lindberg (4), center; Hansen, Hancock, guards; Bentley, forward.

The Annapolis crew will not be familiar with their home stretch of water this year. According to the sailing schedule recently announced there is but one race at home—that with Syracuse in a dual meet on May 20.

BOWLING

Pete Francis Shows He Is a Gamster.

Pete Francis proved his gameness last night when, after being crashed to the mat three times in the first round, he gathered himself together and went the limit with Johnny Pastrano. The latter won, but the match was all the game little Francis. No sooner had the boys put their hands up than Pastrano threw a wicked right swing against the Francis, taking him down and down went Pete. He took the count of three. When he arose Pastrano leveled again and Pete took the count of nine. He was down again before the end of the round, and had Pastrano had no heart of a Frank and only tenacity of a John, he would have won right there. But Pastrano has not the heart of a Frank and only tenacity of a John, he would have won right there. But Pastrano has not the heart of a Frank and only tenacity of a John, he would have won right there.

OAKS PUT IN FIRST DAY OF TRAINING BY TAKING A LONG HIKE

Hayward N. S. G. W. Pass Resolution to Give Their Support to Cal. Ewing and His Oaks.

By EDDIE MURPHY.
The squad of Oaks at Myrtle Dale Hot Springs in Napa county now number fifteen, which sounds like more than enough to keep Trainer Alexander "Scotty" Finlay busy between now and the time the remainder of the squad will arrive on March 1. It was quite wet up there when the boys crawled out of their beds yesterday morning, but that was no sign that they were going to find things easy during the day, for the order was issued for every one of the athletes to hit the road for a long hike. Some of the gang were anxious to leave a baseball around, but Del and Ivan Howard are taking no chances, and refused to let any training of that kind take place. Besides Del and Ivan Howard on the hike were Ray Kremer, Buz Arlett, Harry Krause, Dick Arlett, Gordon Jones, "Lefty" Winn, Art Kohler, Dan Alley, Pete Read and Fox. Trainer Finlay hung around camp so as to have everything in shape to give some of the boys a rub down upon their return from the long hike.

Ivan Howard, new manager of the Oaks, is hoping the Old Sol will sort get on the job and make things right for the pitchers and catchers to get their real training. It is anxious to have them feeling at the best when the remainder of the squad arrives. Ivan believes that there is nothing better for the infielders and outfielders to trim up their batting lumps on, than real good pitching, and he is so anxious to have the battery men with all their arms working good by March 1, that he made out here will help him wonderfully. Eller never had any previous experiences with our climate but he is speaking from what he has been told by players with whom he was acquainted in the east and knew a good deal about the Pacific coast.

Hayward N. S. G. W. Are Ready to Back Oaks.
The first real blast of out-of-town enthusiasm for the Oaks came when the news that the Oaks are to play all their home games on the Oakland diamond, was heard yesterday from Hayward. At the weekly meeting of the Golden West of the Native Sons of the Golden West, a resolution was put through that congratulations be sent to J. Cal Ewing and the Oakland baseball club for the move taken to have all the home games of the Oaks played on this side of the bay. "Pinky" Leonard, first sacker for the Melrose Merchants in the Oakland Tribune Class A League, and a member of Edon Parlor at Hayward, was present at the meeting when the resolution was put through, and he says that every member at the meeting expressed joy over the news. "If the people of Hayward and other small towns about Oakland support the Oakland ball club as our parlor has expressed its intention to do, Cal Ewing will never have to regret that he will have his Oaks play all their games on this side of the bay," said Pinky.
The chances are that many other towns outside of Oakland are glad to hear of the move to have baseball to be played on this side of the bay by Pacific Coast League clubs next season. To the Oakland fans it means that they will not have to leave their town as early as eight o'clock on Sunday morning in order to see a Sunday game. They can wait to see the game in the afternoon. Hayward is one of the best baseball towns in the state for its size. Every winter the fans back a team or two in the Oakland Tribune Class A League, while during the summer they also support an amateur team, as well as come to Oakland in large numbers to watch the Oaks in action.

Old California State League May Be Revived.

Someone has struck on a new scheme to give the San Francisco baseball fans continuous ball. Now comes the news that a California State League might be organized and that ball games could be played in San Francisco on days that the Seals would not be at home. One team would represent San Francisco while others might be put in from Modesto, Fresno, Stockton and San Jose. It is said that Charles Moring, brother of Lewis Moring, president of the Sacramento club of the P. C. L., is in favor of putting the State League in. But will the directors of the Pacific Coast League clubs sanction such a move? It is already scheduled to play games at Stockton on Sunday morning, and two games a day would not be very well here. Still the schedule of the California League might be arranged so that the Stockton team would play at home only when Sacramento has no games scheduled there.

Organization of such a league with a team representing San Francisco is being run in opposition to the Oakland club owners, and it is felt that there would surely be heard. Still there may not be anything to prevent organizing of such a league, but you can bet someone would go to bat and try to block it in a move of organizing was started.

ALAMEDA COUNTY HAS TOTAL VALUE
OF $339,663,299

County Assessor Kennedy Issues Comprehensive Report of County's Worth.

Alameda county is worth $339,663,299, according to a comprehensive statement of the county's resources issued today by Lou J. Kennedy, county assessor. The statement is in the form of a chart which shows at a glance the various businesses, churches, farms, etc., in each township, together with an estimation of the value. Of this total valuation only $274,532,032 may be assessed for taxes, however, exemptions to the amount of $65,131,267 being listed for property of churches, service men, corporation property taxed by the state, etc.

The report shows Alameda county's property divided as follows: Population (1920 census), 241,177; area, 840 square miles; number of residences, 11,965; business concerns, 5,466; warehouses, 130; oil stations, 65; public garages, 187; sawmills, 456; hotels, 80; public buildings, 79; libraries, 37; fire stations, 56; schools, 168; depots, 47; churches, 226; hospitals, 24; manufacturing, 426; theaters, 62; clubhouses, 17. Only factories employing more than fifty men are classed in the industrial column, while those employing less than that number are listed in the business column. Copies of the chart are being mailed out to all business firms in the county today, and may be had

Eleventh Street
Closing Warriors
Get Dates Mixed

Who called a meeting of the warring elements of the East Eleventh street dispute in the mayor's office at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon? The mayor wants to know. The city clerk had no such meeting on the books and Commissioner Bowers of the street department knew nothing about it; yet a large delegation of East Oaklanders appeared promptly at 2 o'clock, headed by Attorney A. P. Skidmore, and good ready to battle the most question of the East Eleventh street closing to a finish.

"It's all news to me," said the mayor. "Ditto," said Commissioner Bowers. "Same," said City Clerk Sturges. "But we are here," said Skidmore. "We thought we were to have a talk on the subject."

"There is a city council meeting scheduled for the near future," explained City Clerk Sturges, "but it is not for today, and I would suggest that you appear at the city council hearing."

The delegation agreed to do so, after some time remarks about having to travel to and fro to attend meetings on this long-fought subject.

ALAMEDA STUDIES LUMBER.

ALAMEDA, Feb. 17.—Wendell Hauch has gone to Arcata, Humboldt county, for the purpose of making a study of redwood and other California timber. Hauch has been affiliated with a lumber company of San Francisco, and his work will center about the determination of wood values. He was formerly associated with his brother in the grocery business in Alameda.

WHITE STUDENTS'
REASONING POWER
BESTS JAPANESE

Tests at Alameda School Show Oriental Children Surpass in Arithmetic.

ALAMEDA, Feb. 17.—Reasoning powers of white children are greater than in Japanese except in arithmetical ability, where they are equal, or the Japanese in some cases surpass the white, according to the findings of a test conducted in the Alameda school department. Twenty-four white and twenty-four Japanese students in the fourth grade of the Everett school were selected for the test, which was conducted under the direction of Superintendent C. J. Du Four.

"The reasoning might be more nearly equal between the races if the vocabulary conditions were nearly equal," Du Four said this morning. "In computation the Japanese proved slightly better than the whites. Probably with equal vocabulary conditions the figures might be equal or reversed. I am not prepared to say. In observation and reasoning tests the Japanese were not by any means equal to the whites."

The tests employed were those known as the National Intelligence A and B. They are compiled by five leading educational authorities in the United States—M. E. Hargrove, L. M. Terman, C. L. Thorndike, G. M. Whipple, R. M. Yerkes. The Alameda survey was made at the request of Sam H. Cohn, deputy superintendent of education.

With more than half the fund collected, the high school mothers have offered to boost the campaign through their benefit.

AUDITOR BEREFT OF STOREKEEPER
TITLE AND WAGES

Berkeley Official Accused of Failing to Attend Duties. Loses $100 Monthly.

BERKELEY, Feb. 17.—Elmer Bell, auditor and storekeeper in Berkeley, lost close to half of his monthly salary today and more than half of his titles when the council, after charges of negligence had been heard, voted to abolish the office of city storekeeper. With this action Bell loses $100 a month.

"Bell has not been attending to the duties of storekeeper for three months," Councilman Carl Bartlett charged. "and I refuse to sign any warrants paying him for something he does not do. It was more than a month ago when I reported this to Mayor Bartlett, and he said he would make an investigation."

Mayor Louis Bartlett answered this last with a statement that he had never heard the subject mentioned before. The vote showed the council lined solidly against the mayor, and Berkeley is without a storekeeper. The office was created when an amendment to raise the auditor's salary failed, and the duties of taking care of the city's property were added to those of the auditor, the two salaries totaling to $250 a month.

Unemployment Shows
Decrease in Alameda

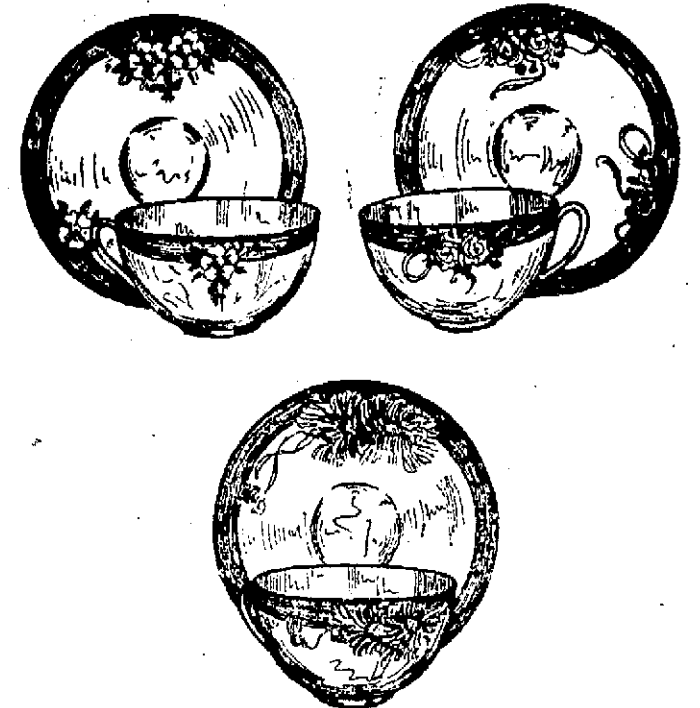

ALAMEDA, Feb. 17.—Unemployment in Alameda is showing a very decided decrease, according to a report made by Mrs. Beulah Spurn, executive secretary of the Alameda Social Service Board. The board has secured temporary work for 54 cases and permanent positions for 14 during the month. Public donations have increased and board expenditures have decreased.

The board is at present handling 330 relief cases. Seventeen of these are due to unemployment, and eleven to acute illness. The board's expenditures for the month amounted to $3540, as compared to $4371 for the month previous. Of this sum, $1086 went for groceries, $108 for milk, $104 for rent, $110 for fuel, $67 for drugs and medicines, $51 for clothes, $180 for children's board, $1740 for widows and $77 for emergencies.

Law School Head
To Visit East Coast

BERKELEY, Feb. 17.—Dean Wm. Carey Jones, head of the Boalt Hall of Law at the University, left Berkeley today for a two-weeks' trip to the eastern coast. Dean Jones will visit a number of the law schools of eastern universities, and will investigate their systems of instruction. He was escorted to the train by the entire law school, numbering 200 students. His absence will cause the remaining professors to increase work in their classes, because Professor W. W. Perrier is also away from the school, being confined to his home by illness.
